City Engineer Miller will check the bids today and make his report and recommendation to council Monday.

SACCO-VANZETTI LOSE LAST DITCH APPEAL IN COURTS

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 19.—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti today lost their "last ditch" legal battle in the Massachusetts courts.

The full bench of the state supreme judicial court in a decision awaited in every corner of the world, turned down all moves by chief defense counsel, Arthur D. Hill to save the lives of the two prisoners and secure for them a new trial.

With the present respite ending at midnight August 22 the next move of the defense legal forces will be a rush to the United States supreme court for a writ of certiorari looking for a stay of sentence and a review by the highest federal tribunal.

Overrule Exceptions

The full bench of the state's highest court overruled exceptions to denial of motions for a new trial by Trial Judge Webster Thayer and for a revocation of sentence.

The full bench sustained Supreme Court Justice George A. Sanderson in denying a writ of error.

All actions hinged around the alleged prejudice of the trial judge against Sacco and Vanzetti because of their radical beliefs. This was brought to light in a series of affi-

BOTH HANDS BLOWN OFF

Dynamite Explodes In Workman's Hands—Is Near Death.

A stick of dynamite exploding in the hands of Andy Mandich at the quarries of the Bessemer Limestone & Cement company at Bessemer about 11 o'clock blew off both hands, injured his abdomen and severely burned his face, chest and arms and from latest reports will likely cost the man his life.

Mandich was working in the quarry and was about to place a stick of dynamite when it exploded in his hands, tearing off both hands and tearing a large hole in his abdomen. Just what caused the explosion has not yet been found out.

Mandich was rushed to the Shenango Valley hospital at New Castle where he was treated. He was reported to be in a very serious condition and little hope of his life being saved.

Mandich, who was employed by the limestone company, is unmarried and about 35 years old and has made his home in Bessemer for some time.

FLAMES DESTROY BIG TUG BOAT

Loss Estimated At $20,000 As Flames Damage River Boat Near Charleroi

(International News Service)
CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 19.—Fire of undetermined origin early today caused estimated damage of $20,000 to the tug boat "Volcano" docked at the wharf of the Crystal Ice Company in the Monongahela river, at Lock No. 4, North Charleroi.

Members of the crew who were sleeping in the cabins of the tug were aroused by the flames and fire whistles of other boats. All escaped uninjured. Fire alarms turned in to North Charleroi and Charleroi brought out engines from several companies to fight the flames.

Firemen fought for three hours to quell the flames. After an investigation, officials of the Hillman Coal Company, owners of the tug boat, said that the hold had been damaged and machinery in the engine room had been destroyed. The top deck of the craft was burned away.

The "Volcano" is one of the largest tow boats in river service on the Monongahela and had been in service for many years.

TWO FORMER POLICE SHOT BY OFFICERS

Duel Takes Place In Streets Of Williamson, W. Va.

POLITICAL FIGHT BEHIND BATTLE

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Aug. 19.—D. W. Deerfield and Harvey McGuire, former members of the police force of this town, were shot and killed here today by Julius Lawson and James Kirkpatrick, members of the present police force, during a gun battle in the downtown section. Lawson and Kirkpatrick surrendered following the shooting and are held in the county jail charged with murder.

State troopers, about 35 in number, have been deployed about the town to prevent further hostilities.

The shooting is said to have resulted when Deerfield and McGuire halted a milk wagon belonging to W. F. Hutchinson, a city council member, and charged the driver was violating a traffic ordinance.

Result of Feud.

Deerfield was shot through the heart and died instantly. A cross fire barrage was fired at McGuire and six bullets riddled his body. As he fell he drew his gun and succeeded in slightly wounding Kirkpatrick in the leg.

The shooting, it is said, is the result of a three months' political fight between two police forces which have been patrolling the town for the past three months.

The old police force, of which Deerfield and McGuire were old members, and its chief, Abram Steth, were ousted by the city council several months ago, and a new police force under Evans Hall was named.

Hutchinson is a member of the council and is said to have voted to oust the Steth force.

Both forces continued to operate while the case was pending a review by the state supreme court.

Pennsy Train Is Derailed

PASSENGERS ARE SLIGHTLY HURT

(International News Service)
STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 19.—Both the engineer and fireman of the crack Pittsburgh-Bellaire flyer of the Pennsylvania railroad were in a hospital today following the derailing of the train last night as it speeded around Costania curve, seven miles east of Steubenville.

E. L. Frederick, 41, of East Liverpool, O., the fireman, and Engineer Louis Owens, 38, of Shadyside, O., were injured when thrown from the engine cab as the train leaped the rails, tore up track for more than 400 yards and then took a nose dive. All four passenger cars and the baggage coach were overturned.

Railroad officials at Mingo Junction made up a special train and dispatched it to the scene of the accident. Many of the passengers who received only minor injuries and nervous shock had their injuries dressed and were taken to Bellaire, O., and Wheeling, W. Va.

Physicians and others who came in ambulances after the wreck were delayed for several hours by reason of bad roads. Physicians summoned from Wellsville and Toronto, O., were forced to use detours that delayed their progress.

Windows in every coach were shattered and all cars bore deep marks where telephone and telegraph poles had grazed them.

GREAT 'MAN HUNT' ON FOR THREE FUGITIVES FROM ALLEGHENY JAIL

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Every law enforcement agency in Allegheny county, from county and city detectives to federal prohibition agents, joined hands today in the greatest manhunt here in years.

The search was for Paul Jaworski, desperate Detroit gunman and gang leader who faces the electric chair for the killing of a payroll guard in a highway robbery, and for his two companions, John Vassbinder and an unidentified gunman who engineered the bold escape.

Outside Aid.

Jaworski's outside companion visited the Allegheny county jail late yesterday to talk with the Detroit bandit. He brought with him five 45 calibre automatic pistols. When the attention of guards was distracted he handed Jaworski three guns, the latter gave Vassbinder, who was waiting nearby, one gun, and pandemonium broke loose.

In an instant the escaping prisoners and their liberator were past the astonished guards protecting the inner office, shooting Guards John Hanlon and Harry Riger as they fled. A moment later they had overpowered the bookkeeper in the outside office and walked calmly from the front door, using the bookkeeper's keys to open the huge steel doors.

Flee To Hills.

Authorities believe the trio fled to the hills southwest of Pittsburgh in Lafayette or Washington county and that unless they are apprehended first they likely will seek refuge in the mountains in isolated sections of West Virginia.

Hence, West Virginia officials were notified today to be on the lookout for the desperadoes and at the same time searchers were sent to the Fayette and Washington county hills, popular rendezvous of escaping criminals.

Credence was lent the theory that the trio fled southwest when Charlerci police reported that a big red sedan, similar to the one which was waiting at the jail entrance for the men as a part of the well-timed escape, was seen heading for Bentleyville. It bore a license number corresponding to the bandits' car.

Authorities announced that a thorough investigation of the jailbreak would be made at the jail. Warden John McNeil was away on vacation. Common pleas Judge James H. Gray said the prison board would be convened as soon as possible to probe the affair.

Meantime, guards were thrown around the homes of important witnesses against Jaworski at his trial for the latest outrage attributed to his gang, known as the "Flatheads." It was the bombing of two payroll cars of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation six months ago.

Jaworski had sworn he would never die in the electric chair and it is understood he vowed vengeance against those whom he held responsible for his plight. Fully cognizant of the man's desperate character,

WILD CHASE AFTER CAR BY LOCAL POLICE

New Castle Officers Pursue Car Believed To Carry Fugitives.

PURSUIT ENDS NEAR BEDFORD

Several officers of the police department in the early morning hours, chased a speeding sedan, which may have been the car in which Paul Jawarski, convicted payroll bandit and John Vassbinder, convicted murderer, who shot their way out of the Allegheny county jail Thursday afternoon with the aid of an unknown gunman, toward Youngstown, until a bearing burned out in their car and they were compelled to give up the chase.

The officers in the car were Dukes, James, Samuels and Lockard. It was necessary to tow their car in. They had reached a point some nine or ten miles from this city, when compelled to give up the chase.

Officer Clarence Samuels was just off duty and enroute home at 3:05 a. m., when a sedan, in which there were four men and a woman, careened past him at a high rate of speed on Grant street. He caught four of the license plate numbers "417-6" and as these tallied with those of the car in which the jail breakers made their escape, he immediately telephoned central station and the police car started in pursuit.

The pursuing police car was in sight of the tail light of the car being chased, when the bearing burned out and the chase was over.

Gigantic Search Across Pacific Is Still Unfruitful

None Of Five Missing Fliers Or Either Plane Discovered.

LATEST CLUE IS BEING INVESTIGATED

Many Ships And Planes Are Taking Part In Rescue Effort.

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, Aug. 19. — The report that the trans-Pacific airplane, Miss Doran, had been washed ashore at Keanae, on the Island of Maui, and that the pilot, J. A. Pedlar, the navigator, Lieut. V. R. Knope, and the passenger, Miss Mildred Doran, were safe, had not been confirmed and is believed to be false.

A Honolulu newspaper issued a special edition at 8:30 o'clock last night saying:

"All efforts to confirm the report of the finding of Pedlar and the plane Miss Doran, with its other occupants, have proved unavailing."

Following the circulation of the report that the plane had been washed ashore late Thursday afternoon on Maui a raidogram was sent to Keanae making inquiry. A reply was received saying that there was absolutely no confirmation of any such report.

In the meantime the search for the two planes—Miss Doran and the Hearst plane Golden Eagle—continued with unabated vigor.

Hint At Clue

Washington, Aug. 19.—A message indicating that a clue to one of the missing Dole airplanes may have been discovered west of Hawaii was received at the navy today from Rear Admiral Ridley McLean, commanding the submarine section of the battle fleet in the Pacific.

Admiral McLean said he was dispatching two submarines, the S-15 and S-16 to the westernmost end of the Hawaiian group, adding:

"They will investigate reports of object seen in water."

No further explanation was given.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 19.—All of the tricks learned during the World War in spying out the dreaded submarines were called upon by the navy today in its search for the missing Hawaiian flight planes.

More than 250 pairs of keen eyes, aided by powerful binoculars, are scanning the horizon of the Pacific from vantage points on forty odd warships for traces of four brave men and an equally courageous girl, according to the Navy Department.

Use Search Tactics

"Search tactics," recognized as an art in the navy and combining the methods used both to find and to avoid submarines, have proved so successful in the past that naval of-

REGISTRATION DATES ARE SET

City Voters To Register On September 1, 6, And 17.

Through some misinformation which was given to the county commissioners the dates of registration in the city of New Castle have been given out for some weeks as September 1, September 6 and September 10.

These are not exactly correct, the dates being September 1, September 6 and September 17. This latter group of dates was originally bulletined on the wall by Chief Clerk James R. Lamoree but information sent to him was that September 10 was the last day for registration. The pamphlet laws passed by the recent session of the General Assembly show that Mr. Lamoree was right in the first place, the 17th being the last day for registration.

Police Officials Check Murder Yarn

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA Pa., Aug. 19.—Police authorities of this city have asked the British Admiralty and the police authorities of Tampico, Mexico to co-operate in tracing down an alleged trail of murder which stretches back 22 years and ending in the harbor here with the death by suicide of a barge captain, Juan Fernandez.

The tale of three murders alleged to have been committed by Fernandez was told by his widow who said Fernandez had confessed them to her. She declared he suicided in fear of his crimes being found out by the authorities of one of the countries affected—Guatemala, Mexico and Great Britain.

According to the widow's story, Fernandez shot and killed his brother in their home in Guatemala, 22 years ago, when Fernandez was only 11 years old. He then fled the country. In 1927 the widow asserted Fernandez stabbed to death a man at Tampico, Mexico during a quarrel and then fled that country. His third murder according to the widow's story was committed the following year aboard a British merchant ship. She said Fernandez choked a sailor to death during a quarrel aboard the vessel and threw the body overboard to conceal the crime.

Here's how a full-sized ship operates in the search:

Two men, standing in the crow's nest, 150 feet above the water, scan the water on all sides. Two more lookouts are stationed in the wings of the bridge, together with an officer in each wing and one on the bridge. Each lookout is assigned a quadrant.

Working in two hour shifts, because the strain on the eyes is said to be severe, the lookouts can see from 13 to 19 miles in each direction, with the ship ploughing along at 15 to 20 knots an hour.

Directed by Admiral Jackson, the ships will be so deployed that the entire likely path of the flight, embracing more than 400,000 square miles, can be covered within three days, according to officials here.

Aircraft Aid

The eyes of the navy wil l be strengthened with the addition of the aircraft carrier Langley and the aircraft tender Aroostock, carrying more than 30 airplanes.

Taking off from the deck of the Langley at 30 minute intervals, the planes will rise to an altitude of 2,000 feet, from which point a lookout can see 62 miles each way, it is said.

The possibility of many false hopes arising is strong, say navy officers. Along the path from San Francisco to Honolulu are many food crates and other debris tossed out from passenger liners which, at a distance, may resemble a plane in water.

The navy's last great hunt in the Pacific was for the late Commander John Rodgers and his ill-fated Hawaiian-bound plane in 1925. That hunt failed but, navy officers now admit, the failure probably was due to the mistake of a radio operator on the Aroostock. He reported Rodgers' position as south of that ship when Rodgers had in fact radioed that he was a hundred miles north.

"A lookout on a search of this kind is trying on the eyes," said Lieut. E. F. Burkett, who took part in the Rodgers search.

"During that search many false hopes arose. At night the planet Venus, low on the horizon at that time of year, was mistaken for a white rocket. The food crates thrown from passenger steamers often were mistaken for the plane."

authorities deemed it advisable to afford Jaworski's possible victims every protection.

The farm of John Weckoski, near Charleroi, was again under guard today. It was the rendezvous of the "Flathead" gang during a series of payroll robberies, and although the searchers were inclined to believe the trio would not visit such well known haunt, the guard was stationed there as a precaution.

John D. Pennington, Federal prohibition administrator, turned over four fast automobiles to detectives leading the search for the desperadoes. He also offered the services of several of the best sleuths in his department.

There was much speculation as to the identity of the outside gunman who engineered the plot. He went to the jail in the big red sedan in which the trio escaped a few moments later, investigators were convinced, but they know little about him.

He was described as being about 32 years old, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, and weighing about 150 pounds. He was dark complexioned and wore a small mustache. His companion outside in the car was a woman.

JOHN COOLIDGE CHARMS FIVE HILLS FLAPPERS

Western Maids Talk With Visitor At Club House

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Aug. 19.—Five charming Hot Springs flappers last night were the happiest and proudest girls in the Black Hills. They are the first of the expectant host to get John Coolidge, the president's son, into conversation.

With their arms around each other the girls surrounded John on the porch of the Hot Springs Country club and told him he ought to come down to the club some night when there is a dance.

"I'd like to," he assured them, and then, looking out over the picturesque golf course, added he would like to play on it.

He told them he had been playing quite a bit of golf in the east this summer with his friend, Russell Wood of the secret service.

The flappers who showered their smiles on the president's son were the Misses Forest Mosier, Ruth Barker, Helen Eastman, Ella Phillips, Dora Bruce and Dorothy McMaster, 17, daughter of the South Dakota senator.

"Gee, I wish he'd come down some time," chirped the petite Miss Barker; "I'll bet he is a good dancer."

Guardsmen Rest Following Sham Warfare Today

(International News Service)

MT. GRETNA, Aug. 19.—The fifty-second cavalry brigade of the Pennsylvania National Guard rested today after a sham battle which covered nearly 100 square miles around the camp, and in which rain and mud helped bring wartime conditions back to the citizen-soldiers.

The mud failed to halt the troopers in their maneuvers, more than 2000 horsemen participating. The 103d regiment, the "Whites", were arrayed against the 104th, the "Blues," in the simulated fighting.

Belgian Balloonists Seek Assistant Pilots For Bennett Cup Race

(International News Service)

BRUSSELS, Aug. 19.—American balloon enthusiasts may have a chance to participate in the Gordon Bennett race at Detroit on September 10 as assistant pilots to the Belgian entrants, Demuyter and Lieutenant Philippe Guersin.

The Belgian Aeroclub lost so much money in recent years in organizing the Gordon Bennett race that Belgian entrants this year have to defray their own expenses. Demuyter, winner of the original Gordon Bennett cup, and Guersin, a journalist and former aide to Veenstra, alone accepted.

Both Demuyter and Guersin are seeking assistants willing to share the expense of taking their balloons to Detroit and participating. If they find no one in Belgium they plan to go to Detroit nevertheless and seek Belgian residents in America to accompany them.

As a last resort, if not Belgians are available, they expect to ask for American volunteers. Rules for the race, according to officials, provide that the aides need not necessarily be of the same nationality as the chief pilots.

Demuyter will pilot his own balloon, "L'Etoile Belge", given to him three years ago by the Belgian people. Guersin has more difficulties. The "Prince Leopold" which Veenstra piloted last year with Guersin as his assistant, belongs to both Veenstra and Guersin.

BANK CASHIER IS HELD FOR COURT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—Emmert Sheeley, alleged defaulting cashier of the Citizen's National Bank of Greencastle, was held for trial in federal court today following a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Samuel Levin.

Bail was fixed at $25,000, the amount under which he had been at liberty during the last week.

Sheeley's arrest followed within several weeks after a shortage of $75,000 was discovered in the bank's accounts.

About the time of the discovery of the shortage, the cashier attempted to end his life by drinking laundnum, police said.

An Atchison woman asked her husband for $5, reports the Globe. "I don't choose to give it to you," he said, "but I will."

ON TO SCHOOL

WITH summer vacations drawing to a close, pupils of our schools and their parents should turn their minds to the important business of continuing youth's education.

The recent flight of Lindbergh is an inspiring example of seeing the task through. Just as Lindy turned his plane East and set out for Paris, so must the student turn his thoughts toward our educational institutions with the determination, "On to School."

We should employ as much determination, zeal and thoroughness in continuing this great adventure as Lindy did in his flight to France. The happy partnership of Lindy and his plane, which he termed "we," finds parallel in our partnership with our schools. We should unite the spirit of youth with the spirit of education, just as Lindy joined the "Spirit of America" with the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Lindbergh did not make his trip primarily for gain but for accomplishment. However, the former proved a valuable by-product. Let us follow his example, and, as he did, continue our flight in education for the good of the nation and the cause of progress, as well as for the returns to youth. Though the impulse is unselfish its fruits are substantial, for out of such enterprise spring the inspiration that generates creative power. A hundred plans in aviation are maturing because of Lindy's signal achievement. A thousand advantages accrue from the achievements of education.

Pupil no less than aviator must follow through to attain success. Lindy did not start with the acclaim of the world ringing in his ears. He had just begun his start on a constructive career. He had finished but one lap of the race. The same application can be made to commencement and promotion in our schools; these are but steps to a higher service.

Parents are reminded that Lindbergh's backers had no guarantee of any returns. Loyalty and admiration for the spirit of this youth and the cause he championed inspired them to make any necessary sacrifices. This should be the attitude of parents and taxpayers who appreciate that education is the foundation for life.

It is timely, then, when school days are just ahead, to turn our eyes toward our schools ,also toward our boys and girls called on for an important decision, and sound the slogan, "On to School."

SHIPS OF STEEL

WHEN the first steel ship was under construction wiseacres observed that only a fool would try to make metal float. But they were no greater fools than those who but a few years ago scoffed at the idea of making ships of metal fly. Virtually all airplanes are now made of metal.

The gradual change from wood to metal was largely due to the fear of a world shortage of the special types of timber suitable for the exacting demands of aircraft construction, but the advantages of metal over wood soon made themselves evident.

Incidental to this change has been the development, as a result of a great deal of experimental work, of metal hulls for flying-boats. In this particular direction the most suitable material has been found to be not steel but one of the aluminum alloys such as duralumin. Hulls made of these metals are 500 pounds lighter than those of wood and do not absorb moisture, which sometimes adds as much as 400 pounds to the wooden hull.

The result of this combined saving, amounting to a total of 900 pounds, is that the service range of the machine, carrying the same crew and armament, is increased by the striking figure of 200 miles. Or, to put it in another way, a metal-hulled commercial plane of similar size would be able to carry six passengers more than a wooden-hulled machine of otherwise identical characteristics. This might be the difference between a successful and an unsuccessful military invasion by air and between a profitable and unprofitable commercial line.

These developments in construction and design may seem trivial, but they are bringing nearer and nearer the long predicted age of the air.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Who Loves a Boy.

Who loves a boy has much to do
To win the lad's affection, too,
And much to learn to hold him fast
And set him free a man at last.
He dare not grant his every whim
For in that way he loses him.

Who loves a boy must make each gift
A symbol of enduring thrift,
For money lavished from the purse
Is not a kindness but a curse,
Who gives because his boy may weep
Will lose the love he longs to keep.

Who loves a boy must learn to stand
And hold away the helping hand:
Must let the lad work out his task
Though for assistance he may ask;
Let him complete what is begun
That he may learn how work is done.

He must have freedom, yet a chain
Of love his action must restrain.
For manhood's miracle is wrought
Not out of love but out of thought.
Who loves a boy must wisely plan
That he may later love the man.

A Pittsburgh man is suing one of his neighbors because his son fell into a tub of hot mash and was killed when said neighbor was constructing a batch of hootch. That is going to be an embarrassing trial, even if some real drys do not get on the jury.

If the anarchists in this country did succeed in wrecking America they would have no place to go. In all foreign countries where any subject gets to knocking and criticizing the government they just hang them at sunset and don't wait until sunrise. Mighty good plan.

An engineer tells us that big airships are the safest method of transportation ever designed by human hands. He may have trouble convincing the insurance companies of it.

A prominent French lawyer is apparently against the American jury system, and says: "Americans choose to be judged by 12 ignorant equals, while Frenchmen prefer to be judged by three trained experts." After some people in this country lose a case in court they might feel sort of peeved at the 12 ignorant equals, we will have to admit.

A local woman hater pulled this gem on us at the old-timers' picnic: "It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than with a brawling woman in a wide house."

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department is going to try the use of mirrors on curves on the roads so the drivers of cars can see themselves approaching each other. This may be a very good thing if the cost of replacing the broken run into mirror does not bankrupt our great state.

LEGEND OF THE LAMB

You've heard the tale of Mary's lamb,
The tale as told was not quite true,
And so the world will have it straight—
I'm rhyming here the truth for you.

Mary had a little lamb,
'Twas not the kind you think, I fear;
She sassed her mother back one day—
And got this lam behind her ear!

A judge says love endures in spite of divorce. Love of publicity seems to.

It seems as though a great many enterprising people who have the flying buy in their bonnet want planes of the kind that Lindbergh and Chamberlin flew across the Atlantic. Many inquiries from abroad have been received in this country and with true Yankee enterprise the prices were cabled back. It would be a shame now if the foreign countries would put a tariff on the imported airplanes, wouldn't it?

Augusta's Airport.

La Place and John L.
Why the Radio?

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Lindbergh, in his trip flying to 75 cities in the forty-eight states, has worked to help flying, the one thing that interests him. Everywhere he has urged the importance of airports, not only for the sake of aviation, but especially for the sake of each city's standing and prosperity.

One after another of the American cities, all but New York, the biggest, are establishing airports. Mr. Hamilton, editor of the Augusta Chronicle, informs the writer that the city of Augusta is establishing a magnificent airport overlooking the city. New York City, which hasn't any airport and which is rich enough to have a hundred, please take notice.

E. Francis Jenkins says he has invented a runway that will launch an airplane in a space 100 feet long, making his airports unnecessary. Good news, if true.

Other good news, without any "if", is supplied by Colonel E. H. R. Green, who likes to make his fortune useful. On his estate at Round Hills, South Dartmouth, he will build two flying fields, with grass runways, one 3,800 feet long, the other 2,700 feet long. These, says he, will take care of planes twice as large as any built hitherto.

Scientists appeal for funds to build a monument to La Place, and every intelligent human being should be glad to contribute something.

But it would probably be easier to raise money for a monument to John L. Sullivan than for the La Place monument.

La Place, son of a poor French peasant, was, next to Newton, the greatest mathematical mind that ever lived. His work on "Celestial Mechanics," based on Newton's law, was the first exposition of the structure of this universe.

Unfortunately, no living artist is capable of building the right monument to such an overwhelming intellectual genius.

For one man in America that ever heard of La Place, 1,000 know John L. Sullivan well. That's our civilization.

There is some mild government supervision of the radio. Do the supervisors consider it necessary or desirable that the details of prize fights should be sent into homes and listened to by 20 millions of Americans, including children? Would you describe that as making an intellectual, "Christian" and elevated use of a great scientific discovery?

We must have the prize ring, the bloody fights, of course, for those that can afford to pay $125 a ringside seat, just as we must have "speakeasies" for those that can afford to pay $25 a bottle for champagne. But why carry the prize fighting into so many homes?

Don't prize fight promoters realize that radio broadcasting will stop their prize fighting eventually? Clergymen here and there will be aroused as they listen to the interesting fight news coming in over the radio and then there will be trouble. Many clergymen are interested in things more important to human salvation than Darwin's monkey theory—which, by the way, was never taught by Darwin.

Texas editors and Texas lawyers enjoyed an interesting fight. E. G. Senter, who founded the Fort Worth Gazette, and is a lawyer, says most lawyers and the system of justice in Texas need reforming and adds, "The editors will whip the lawyers to a frazzle." In a speech before a convention of editors, Senter said: "In Dallas, 50 lawyers ought to be in the penitentiary right now."

Perhaps after the editors have reformed the lawyers, the latter will combine and reform the editors. If Dallas has 50 lawyers that "ought to be in the penitentiary right now," we wonder how many there are in Chicago, New York, etc.

One great danger in ocean flying is the formation of ice on the wings. Couldn't an all-metal monoplane be arranged to divert the air from the exhaust and cause it to circulate inside of the wings and keep them warm enough to melt sleet as it formed? Or perhaps some scientist will invent a substance that, spread over the wings, will prevent ice formation. Nature cannot do anything that man cannot thwart. He lives at the equator where polar bears would suffocate, and at the north pole, where elephants and lions would freeze.

WHAT YOU BECOME—

Tomorrow depends upon what you are today.
Depends more upon your will than your environment.
Will be determined, not by your fates, but by your fights.
In any community depends upon the spirit you show toward the neighbors.
In a church depends upon the investment of yourself you make.
In this world depends upon your ability to work with other people.
In the long run depends upon your ability to meet emergencies.

PRACTICAL PEACE

There are many plans to prevent war.

The trouble with all of them is that they will not work.

You must have two things, a logical system and then people who are able to carry out that system. We have systems a plenty and they are all logical and convincing, but we have no population that has sense enough to adopt them.

Mr. Wilson's League of Nations was theoretically perfect. Nobody supposed that the most intelligent nation in the world would get its back up and refuse to go in. We expected that of Russia and Mexico, but not of the United States. Facts, however, are facts. America refused to co-operate.

Mr. Borah's plan for the outlawry of war is commendable and so is the proposition entertained by both France and Japan to make a special treaty not to go to war with this country. We may expect certain patriots, however, to rise on their hind legs, wave the flag and object to this.

The difficulty with all of these plans is that they are either political or sentimental.

There is just one force in this world which works for the benefit of humanity and works without sentiment or politics. It helps humanity not for the Lord's sake, nor for the country's sake, but for its own sake. It prospers in proportion as humanity is prospered. That force is business.

Judge Gary in a recent interview said that if the steel magnates had been allowed to consolidate before the war there would have beeen no war. They did not want war. No business wants war. Business thrives in peace and only when people thrive.

Business does not want pests, whether the pest of yellow fever or the pest of Bolshevism. Business does not want strikes, nor lockouts, and business does not want war and universal destruction.

Years ago Frank R. Stockton wrote a story which depicted how a business combine simply throttled the nations and prevented war for its own sake.

Business is supposed to be bloody, cruel and sinister. In some circles a business combine is supposed, in the nature of the case, to be a public menace. It is not. Big business thrives only as the people thrive, and if the matter of going to war was left in the hands of big business there would be no war.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE HEATHEN CHINEE.

Bret Hart, it was, who said that the Heathen Chinee is peculiar. He enjoyed considerable acquaintances among the Heathen Chinee in California, and he ought to have learned a great deal about them. The Chinese people are nevertheless a very loveable people,—at least, those who belong to the Old Regime. The modern Bolshevik Chinese is not so dear to the hearts of the European and American people occupying the different Concessions and Compounds in Chines cities. The Chinese house servant has become known as the most faithful of all servants. If a Chinese likes a family, wild horses could not induce him to leave, and if for any reason such a Chinese finds it necessary to leave his employment, he is accustomed to bring to the family another Chinese whom he knows he can recommend as a good servant. This family servant has a great many curious traits just as curious as any traits Bret Hart discovered in the mining camps.

I stopped recently at a little inn on Mono Lake, California. Entering the dining room I saw through an open window a Chinese cook in the kitchen. I told those with me that they would have no choice as to what they would eat, they would take what was set before them. It was so. Food was brought in in courses well cooked, with a strange Chinese sweet for desert. The only choice which the guests had at the table at that inn was in the matter of drinks,—not alcoholic.

At the Presidio of San Francisco I found two officers. In the family of one had been born a man child some three years previous. The other officer's family possessed a boy of six months. In each family there were Chinse servants. "Number 1 Boys," as they are known in the quarters of each officer, were superior Chinese lads attending San Francisco High Schools in term time, but faithfully going their work in school or out. Both Chines boys had learned to love the children of the officers. The three year old infant had grown to be so lusty that he had been nicknamed "Bullets." The six months old youngster is also a strong healthy child, but not old enough to get into any mischief. The Chinese boy there was the self appointed nursemaid to the young master. Nothing was so wonderful as the boy. Recently the boy of the family of the three year old was boasting to the other boy concerning the fine qualities of "Bullets," and what sort of a man he was going to be. The other boy threw back his head and sticking his fingers into his armholes, boastingly returned: "All right, you call him "Bullets;" We are going to call our boy Gunpowder!"

In another family of my acquaintance a new Chinese boy was introduced as a servant, and was being carefully tutuored by the "Number 1 Boy" and his mistress in the art of attending the front door. He was shown how to take the card slaver to the door when anyone called, take their cards, usher them in, and carry the cards to his mistress. A few days thereafter the front door bell rang, and "Number 2 Boy," taking the card slaver went to the door. He opened the door carefully, but not widely, and held out his slaver. The mistress uptairs hearing a considerable argument, came to the head of the stairs where she could command a view of the front door. She saw that the "Number 2 Boy" was not admitting the guest, and heard much talk in broken English, and prostestations from feminine voices on the outside; above it all she heard "Number 2 Boy" say:—"No tickee, no come in!"

KELLYGRAMS

By FRED C. KELLY.

JOTS ON THE MARGIN

My friend, Shaw Desmond, has written a fine novel called "The Isle of Ghosts." It is a story of the Irish revolution, and is very well done. For those who enjoy a good example of character development, there is a creditable piece of work in the depicting of the hero of this story.

It seems a shame to point to a flaw in such an entertaining book. But I can't pass this one up. On the very first page Mr. Desmond says of his hero:

"There he sat, looking from face to face with those pale blue eyes of his with the tiny black irises."

Now, it is plain to me that the author says iris when he means pupil. The iris, of course, is the blue part of the eye, while the black part is the pupil.

How does so careful a writer come to make so absurd a mistake?

Well, it is necessary in cases of this kind to take into consideration the fact that no writer can know everything and keep everything straight in his mind all the time. Writers, as well as other folks, make strange slips.

One thing this error of Mr. Desmond's suggests to me. It makes me feel sure that the author of "The Isle of Ghosts" has had little or no trouble with his eyes. If he had been often to the oculist, as I have been, he would have heard so much about irises and pupils that he would be in no doubt about which is which. I congratulate Shaw Desmond, then, upon his good book and his good eyes.

Flying off and on to passenger liners plying between the United States and Europe ought to become fairly general practice within the next few years, among those who can afford to pay for the luxury of saving a day or two in a transatlantic voyage.

Already it has been demonstrated that the thing can be done. It remains for the larger liners to get the practice going as a commercial enterprise, out of which the owners of the liners should make money. Not every passenger liner can afford to carry such space-occupiers as passenger airplanes, but all of the very large vessels should be thus equipped in the near future.

Meantime, we shall be looking for the air liner which shall cross the ocean regularly with a small load of passengers and mail at each trip. These will fly just as soon as mid-ocean landing stations are ready.

Smith Clan Gathers At Home Of Mr. And Mrs. Chas. Smith.

OTHER NEWS OF LEESBURG AREA

(Special To The News)

LEESBURG, Aug. 19.—The sixth annual reunion of the Smith family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith.

A bountiful dinner and supper were served and a fine time enjoyed by all.

During the business session the election of officers took place and resulted in the following officers being re-elected: president, D. W. Uber; secretary, Edward Uber. Dewey Smith, Alice Oakes and Gladys Offutt were named for the entertainment committee.

"Gin Marriage" Law Slows Up Weddings For Californians

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Just when they had reconciled themselves to a three-day wait in receiving their marriage licenses, prospective brides and grooms in California learned that they really had to wait four days.

The "gin marriage" law, drawn up to prevent giddy-headed revelers from marrying one day and annuling their marriage the next, provided that "3 days" must pass between an application for a marriage license and the issuance of the license itself. This delay, the legislators believed, would enforce cool and calm deliberation.

Now, however, under an interpretation of Attorney General U. S. Webb the three-day period doesn't begin till midnight of the day of the application, and ends at midnight of the third day. Since few applications for licenses or marriages can be performed at that hour of the day the interpretation really places a four-day moratorium in effect.

As soon as ladies decided that it was polite to faint, bystanders formed the habit of loosening something tight. It used to be the "stays" and sometimes headdresses. And for obvious reasons the moderin first aider turns of necessity to shoes.—Baltimore Sun.

What Doctors Say About Smoking and Throat Protection

An advertisement based on the opinion of 9651 physicians*

Mary Lewis,
Famous
Metropolitan Star, writes:

"Because they never irritate the throat and because of their finer flavor, Lucky Strikes are my favorite and of all whose voices are precious."

Mary Lewis

"Can I really smoke without irritating my throat, even if my throat is unusually sensitive, and even if I smoke as much as I please?"

A number of physicians, many of them leading physicians, in various parts of the United States, were recently asked these two questions:

Q 1—In your judgment is the heat treatment or toasting process applied to tobaccos previously aged and cured, likely to free the cigarette from irritation to the throat?

9651 doctors answered this question "YES".

Q 2—Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".

You have noticed in the newspapers and magazines the opinions of many whose voices must be maintained unimpaired—opera singers, actors and actresses, men prominent in public life, radio announcers. These opinions are confirmed by the opinions of those whose business it is to know.

"It's toasted".

No Throat Irritation - No Cough.

*WE HEREBY CERTIFY that we have examined signed cards answering Questions One and Two and that there are 9651 affirmative answers to Question One and 11,105 affirmative answers to Question Two.

Operations On Three Children Sponsored By Rotary Clubs

MERCER, Aug. 19.—As a result of the clinic of crippled children held of recent date at Mercer and Grove City sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of those towns five children at Grove City and three at Mercer will be operated on as a relief for their condition.

About 25 children were examined in each community it is reported.

The clinics held by the clubs were under the direction of Dr. J. L. Wallace of Pittsburgh, well known surgeon, who will perform the operations.

The date for the operations are yet to be set it is said today. The children will be operated on at the hospitals in their respective towns. The operations will take place on the same day that one trip may dispose of them. As a result of the humanitarian interest in crippled children taken by the Rotary Clubs of Mercer County within the past five years scores of children have been benefitted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The bright lights of Broadway turned dim for Polly, a brightly-colored macaw owned by the manager of a hotel. Polly departed her captivity by way of an open window and spent the next few hours investigating the roaring forties. She was captured by a small Boy Scout, and returned, dishevelled and disillusioned, with a towel wrapped around her head. A $10 reward was forthcoming and the small Boy Scout departed, serene in the knowledge that by saving one more innocent gal from Broadway's pitfalls he had done his good deed for that day.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

Glorifying the Lowly Potato

I sometimes think that we take potatoes as we do some women—very much for granted—until we see them all "dressed up" and realize for the first time how intriguing they really are.

You know how much you enjoy the less ordinary versions of potatoes in a good restaurant—the feathery nothingness of potato souffle, the rich savor of potatoes O'Brien au gratin, the crisp shoestring potatoes. Why not vary your own program a trifle?

In Potato Recipes Milk Plays a Vital Part

Whether you serve potatoes Delmonico—layers of creamed potatoes and cheese browned in a baking dish—mashed potatoes of a fluffy lightness, creamily scalloped, on the half shell, or au gratin, the most important thing is the quality of milk you use.

I have learned through long experience that by using Carnation Milk I get a creamy, rich smoothness that even the best of bottled milk cannot equal. There's very good reason for this superiority. Carnation is milk of the very finest, most dependable quality—pure, whole milk from selected herds. It's sterilized to keep it pure and wholesome, protecting you from the spoiled dishes that result when you use milk of doubtful freshness.

Besides that, Carnation Milk has a very wonderful special quality. It's "homogenized"—the cream content broken up into minute particles and distributed all through the milk, giving every single drop its share of cream—a double share in fact, for Carnation is evaporated to double richness. This generous proportion of cream in Carnation Milk effects a genuine economy in saving butter. "Homogenization" also gives a rich, creamy smoothness that improves the quality of all cookery in which Carnation is used.

Carnation Potatoes on the Half Shell

6 smooth, medium sized potatoes, 2 tbsp. butter, salt, pepper, 6 tbsp. Carnation Milk, 2 tbsp. water, white of 1 egg, 2 tbsp. grated cheese. Bake potatoes in hot oven for about 45 minutes. Cut cap from side of each; scoop out and mash potato; add seasonings, hot diluted Carnation Milk and beaten egg white; refill, sprinkle with cheese, brown in oven for about 8 minutes.

Carnation Scalloped Potatoes

6 medium sized potatoes, 1½ tsp. salt, pepper, 3 tbsp. butter, ¾ cup Carnation Milk diluted with 1¼ cups water, 2 tbsp. flour. Scald diluted milk in double boiler. Pare potatoes, soak and cut in ¼-inch slices; place layer of potatoes in buttered baking dish, season, dredge with flour, dot with butter; repeat; add milk to cover. Bake till soft in 350° F. oven.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Evidently they're going to try a new method of enforcing the anti-parking rules on the postoffice site. Steel poles are being erected on the driveway and a chain will be attached barring all who have no permission inside.

Summer's swan song is being sung—"Last call for straw hats," signs are seen everywhere, these days.

Woman suffrage has made little change in conditions here with regard to equal rights. About as many men are noted getting up to give a seat to a woman in a street car these days as at any period before the day that women got the vote—and equal rights.

And this reminds us—some of the street cars used here have been given a nice new coat of paint recently. The "done over cars" look quite inviting.

The old familiar "Made in Germany" seen so often before the war, is beginning to do a comeback. Take a look around some of these days when you are visiting some of the stores of the city.

"The Castleton" is getting nearer and nearer the day when the magnificent new hotel will be open for service. The marquise over the North Mercer street entrance has been put in place.

New Castle is reaching the point in development when the matter of annexation of some of the much built up adjacent territory will be a timely theme. Other cities show substantial growth by the annexation method. New Castle hasn't increased her boundaries in many years by annexation process.

Recently we saw a Pennsylvania auto license plate bearing the letter D showing that the number of licenses issued to passenger cars in the state to have exceeded 1,300,000. We do not remember of any license plates last year going as high as "D" so there must be more cars licensed this year than were issued last year.

We fail to see the sense of humor demonstrated by a fellow who yesterday deliberately broke a glass bottle on the pavement of Mercer street near Washington street where thousands of autos pass every day. Such acts seem very much like vandalism to us. Not only is it contrary to the golden rule but it seems to us to be really criminal.

Mrs. William Gere of R. D. No. 3 has one of the most attractive displays of flowers of all kinds in the county at the present time. She has many different varieties of flowers and all are now in bloom. Visitors interested in seeing a nice display of flowers are welcome at the Gere home at any time we are informed and will be rewarded in seeing the beautiful display at that place.

Local drivers should learn the new regulation at this corner. The sooner this is done the quicker the traffic question will be solved.

There have been several "mighty close calls" within the last few days at the corner of Washington and East streets just because one or both of the automobiles were in the wrong traffic lane.

All-Metal Air Boat Is Built In England Takes 5 Passengers

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A new all-metal air boat, claimed to be the fastest flying ship of its size in the world and capable of remaining in the air for 14 hours, has recently been constructed by the Blackburn Aeroplane Company here.

The chief feature of this new airship is the all-metal hull, which not only is lighter than a wooden hull but save a water soakage of 600 pounds. The hull also takes the place of floats on a seaplane. Iris II. as the plane is called, is not a seaplane but a flying ship. Driven by three Rolls-Royce "Condor" engines, developing 2,100 horsepower, the ship can take off from the water for flight at 50 knots.

With ample accommodation for five persons, the flying ship contains the latest modern conveniences for air travel. The navigator's cockput, with every equipment, is similar to the captain's cabin in a sea-going vessel. There is a separate accommodation for the wireless operator. Three huge tanks are maintained for the storage of water, a culinary department with electrically-heated ovens and portholes along the sides of the ship complete the illusion that one is in an ordinary liner.

The ship is so constructed that it can cruise on the water or remain at its moorings for nine months out of the 12, and will be able to ride out all but the roughest weather.

In Day's News

J. C. W. Beckham, who has been chosen by the Democrats of Kentucky as their candidate for governor was much in the public eye some 20 years ago. He was a young man then and it was because of his youth as well as the marked ability he displayed that he attracted unusual attention. At the age of 21, having passed an examination for the bar without attending any law school he was elected to the legislature without opposition. He was the youngest man elected speaker of that body since the Civil war. Subsequently he had the distinction of being the youngest lieutenant governor and the youngest governor of Kentucky and when in 1906 he was sent to the United States senate he was the youngest member of the upper house. As lieutenant governor he succeeded to the governorship on the assassination of Gov. Goebel and was twice elected to succeed himself, a record without parallel in Kentucky.

SEARCH ENDS NEXT TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—A deadline in the search for the missing Dole flyers was set by the navy today.

Admiral R. K. Jackson, directing the navy's search from a destroyer in mid-Pacific, advised the navy department that he would continue combing the Pacific until Tuesday, August 23, adding that if the missing flyers are not found by that time he thought it would be little use to continue it. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur approved.

The airplane carrier Langley and the tender Aroostook, both carrying land and sea planes, have reached a point 100 miles west of San Francisco and are starting their aerial patrol, Jaskson advised.

North Carolina Judge Rules As Mule Expert

Permits Non-Suit In Personal Injury Suit Refused By Court

There's no telling when a mule will kick, and the only way to escape danger is not to go near the heels of one, the North Carolina supreme court holds in a decision handed down recently, says a Raleigh, S. C., dispatch to the New York World.

Associate Justice Brogden, graduate of a farm in Wayne county, did the writing in the cast of Mrs. Sam Rector vs. Southern Coal Company, and reverses the lower court which refused to grant a non-suit in a personal injury case in which the plaintiff was awarded $600 damages.

It was not alleged that the husband of the plaintiff, who has since died, was kicked, but that he was pressed to the wall of the stable by a mule. He had gone in the stable to look for eggs, and there was no evidence that the mule had been vicious before.

"What duty does the owner of a mule owe to an employee who has charge of the mule and goes into the stable where the mule is?"

"Here's the question to which the jurist from Durham addresses himself in the opinion in which he expatiates on mule lore. Preparatory to discussing the point at issue, the jurist qualifies himself to speak with authority by defining what a mule is, as he learned it from personal contact of 16 years on a Wayne county farm and extensive observations since:

"A mule is a melancholy creature," the jurist remarks by way of introduction to his discussion. "It is a nullius filibus in the animal kingdom. It has been said that a mule has neither 'pride of ancestry nor hope of posterity'."

"Josh Bilings remarked that if he had to preach the funeral of a mule he would stand at the head."

"Ink Remover" Proves To Be Soap

Police Are Looking For Salesman Who Engineered Sale

The city police get numerous calls to investigate salesmen of all kinds, generally of some fake type.

They met up with probably the cleverest idea in some time this morning.

A call was received from some young ladies in the Wallace block, to the effect that a young man, of rather pleasing appearance, had been there and sold a preparation, which was supposed to be an ink remover.

The stuff he demonstrated with, did the work all right, but when the young ladies opened the package for which they paid fifty cents, they found that it was only soap, which of course will remove dirt but not ink stains.

The soap was encased in a small tin box and there was no chance of detecting the fake until after the salesman had made good his escape.

Officer Longstreth was detailed on the job and made an effort to locate the young man, who however, had made good his getaway.

It was found that there was a fire caused by a short circuit in the starter switch of the car. It was put out with chemicals by Fireman Zeitler. The damage was slight.

Noted Gospel Singer Coming To New Castle

Arthur W. McKee, one of the outstanding gospel song writers, soloists and song leaders, will visit New Castle the first of next month with the view of interesting the local churches in a great tabernacle campaign, to be held sometime during the coming winter.

Mr. McKee will work the coming season with the celebrated evangelist and Bible teacher, Dr. R. E. Neighbor, in what will be known as the Neighbor-McKee evangelistic party. The party demands no guarantee and does not ask the churches to assume any financial obligations whatsoever. They ask only for the hearty cooperation of the churches and the privilege of taking a free will offering for the expenses and a free will love offering for the leaders at the end of the campaign.

Plan To Install New Storm Sewers

Councilman Louis Genkinger today informed members of city council that storm sewers are necessary in Swansea avenue, Charter street, Ashland avenue, Moravia and Liberty street and sponsored a motion, put by Councilman Davies, directing the city engineer to prepare plans to install the storm sewers. The installation will cost about $2,000, it is said.

Wife Reports Her Husband Missing

Mrs. Martha Ferrell of the Slipperyrock road, R. D. 4, reported to the police today that her husband Joseph Ferrell, aged 33, had been missing since he left home Thursday morning to go to his work at the Penzoil company place in South Jefferson street. She asked the assistance of the department in locating her husband. He is described as being five feet nine inches in height, weighing about 145 pounds, dark complexioned and wearing working shoes, dark pants with a white stripe in them, a blue working shirt and a sun visor when last seen.

DEMOCRATS TROTTING OUT THEIR CANDIDATES

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—What have the Democratic presidential possibilities been doing for this quite awhile back?—ever since Coolidge proclaimed himself out of the Republican field, and we've been devoting all our leisure to wondering who was going to step into his shoes.

It's some time since it seems to have occurred to any of us that the nomination of Hoover or Lowden, Longworth or Dawes, Hughes or somebody doesn't actually put him in the White House.

No, sir. The Democratic party begs to state that it has some votes it desires to cast first. It's problematical how many, but, at any rate, it wants it understood it has enough so it doesn't propose to let this next election go entirely by default. Win or lose, it aims to put a candidate up.

From where I sit, I can still see four Democratic possibilities who stand out—Vic Donahey of Ohio, Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Gov. Ritchie of Maryland and Al Smith of New York—to name them in alphabetical order, as an evidence of complete good faith.

And of course William G. McAdoo—in a sort of a kind of a way.

And then there are a good many dark horses, like E. T. Meredith, Evans Woollen, Senator Jo Robinson and such—and even more—Alben Barkley and Harry Byrd and Pat Harrison and Dan Moody et al—in fact, on into infinity, about as long as you care to keep it up.

No doubt everybody'll agree—even Wayne B. Wheeler will, I think—that Al Smith's the star Democratic candidate, so far as political looks are concerned.

Only Wheeler would add that, star as Al appears to be, he can't be nominated.

And on this point I believe most disinterested authorities—Al's New York backers aren't disinterested, needless to say—will indorse Wheeler's proposition, at least to the extent of conceding that they're darned if they can see how it can be done, short of a miracle, under the two-thirds rule.

Vic Donahey probably will loom up pretty big.

He's an awful vote getter in Ohio. He's one of those honest, hard-headed guys, without a single streak of brilliancy in his composition, who get by on the score of their absolute dependability. He's a dry, without being what's known as a fanatical one—about as dry, I'd judge, as Al Smith is wet, since Al's friends have been representing Al as an ideal prohibi- candidate.

He ought to make a hit with the farmers, and that's a heavy score for him right now.

Senator Reed, a two-fisted scrapper, if ever there was one, is a mean man in any fight, but he's seemed to me to be sitting back lately. Maybe he's finished his training and is resting up. We'll know better when he gets back to Washington next winter.

* * *

To Gov. Ritchie goes the credit for furnishing the country, in the last couple of years, with one of the nicest, cleanest, highest-class, gentleman's preparatory presidential campaigns in its history.

His geography's against him.

He's a wet and it's a handicap to be anything on that subject, on either side, these times.

But you know, to the last dot on an "i" and cross on a "t" just where he stands. His idea of a candidate and a platform is that the voter's entitled to know who and what he's casting his ballot for, and he's trying out the startlingly original scheme of telling everybody in advance, so far as he's concerned. It remains to be seen how it'll result.

Raise Fund To Boost Peaches

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19. — A huge fund to advertise and exploit canned California peaches may soon be raised to present recurrence of the recent peach war between growers and canners in which nearly $1,000,000 worth of the luscious fruit was allowed to rot on the ground.

The growers asked $30 a ton; the canners offered $20. In the meantime, the growers allowed the fruit to rot, refusing to sell it at the lower price.

Intensive advertising and wider distribution of the product, bankers believe, would create sufficient demand to prevent another glut with resultant low prices.

FORMER GERMAN CAPTAIN IS NOW WAITER IN HOTEL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—William Marx, former captain in the 74th Imperial German Field Artillery, is now "Waiter No. 513" at the Hotel Astor.

Marx, however, regards his present calling as only a quiet intermission in an adventurous career which started with the declaration of war in August, 1914. He hopes soon to take up aviation in this country.

"Besides my experience as battery commander, stoker, dishwasher, plus a term of service in the White Russian Army under General Wrangel, I was an observer in the war and flew a lot on the Western Front. It is the work of the future and I wish very much to take it up."

Marx said his family formerly owned coal mines at Kakjiewka, Poland, but that they had lost all their money during the war, and that he had lost trace of the other members of the family.

ANNUAL PICNIC AT KING'S CHAPEL HELD THURSDAY

The King's Chapel Sunday school held its annual picnic at the grove at Neshannock Falls on Thursday, August 18.

At noon a picnic dinner was served in the grove, covers being arranged for nearly a hundred people. After dinner a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, H. T. Green; secretary, Helen E. Green; treasurer, Coral Henley.

During the meeting it was decided to hold the picnic next year at the same place on the third Wednesday in August.

Games and contests were held in the afternoon, for which there were prizes.

FAMOUS BOOK IN CITY LIBRARY

For almost 10 years, or just after he had completed "Workshop 47" at Harvard College, Eugene O'Neil has been rated by critics as the outstanding American dramatist of all times. And his greatest play, "Marco Millions", to be produced in New York this fall by a syndicate of theatrical men, is now available in book form at the New Castle Public Library.

In tone "Marco Millions" is quite unlike most of Mr. O'Neil's work, in that it deals with the life of Marco Polo, not as a colorful adventure, but as a business proposition. In the play he might be classed as the George F. Babbit of Venice. Romantic in spirit, "Marco Millions" does not contain any of the expressionism for which Mr. O'Neil is famous. But, although it is romantic, yet there is something about it which at once foils the devotee of the French school of dramatic literature. "Purely business" is the tone which is sounded in the prologue, and throughout the piece the tone remains the same.

With every visit a positive gain.

SOUTH CHANGES TARIFF VIEWS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Increased production of the peanut in the Southern States is largely responsible for a change in those states toward the tariff question.

For generations the south has been solidly free trade in sentiment, opposed to all forms of tariff such as the northern manufacturing states demanded.

However, now that the peanut has become an important crop, sentiment in the state where it is grown is changing as the farmers feel the need for tariff protection against peanut growers in the Orient. The peanut having started the swing in sentiment, southern planters and farmers now find they have a whole list of products which should receive tariff protection. They desire a 50 per cent increase in the tariff on peanuts; also increased protection on the following: Poultry, especially turkeys which are competing with South American fowls for the United States markets; vegetables, especially tomatoes, beans and potatoes; hides, vegetable oils. Texas wool growers desire a higher tariff on wool.

Would Substitute Hen For Eagle On Money

(International News Service)

DENVER, Aug. 19.—Because the American eagle is too destructive and not emblematic of characteristics of our citizens, the Rev. "Jim" Thomas, Detroit pastor, formerly of Denver, wants the government to substitute the hen on American coins for the eagle.

"The hen contributes to the welfare of humanity," Rev. Thomas explained, "while the eagle just struts through the air, with talons spread, ready to tear man or beast to pieces."

Rev. Thomas advocated the change of coin emblems in a speech before a local service club.

The longest purse makes a ruler in China. But the Chinese call it a war instead of an election.

Only 133 Shopping Days Until Christmas; But Local Merchants Are Preparing

Well, again there are only 133 more shopping days until Christmas, when Dad's pocket book will flatten and mother and the girls will blaze out in all their glory.

Only 133 more days until the patter of reindeer hoofs and the tinkle of sleigh bells will be heard on the roofs of New Castle, and the rosy and jovial Santa Claus will shake the snow from his shoulders before sliding down the chimney to deposit his host of gifts around the lighted Christmas tree.

And even now, far away at the North Pole, old Saint Nicholas is urging his workers to bigger and better efforts, so that no one will be slighted when he comes around again. Dolls, sleds, drums, horns, and perhaps something practical for Dad and Mother—all of them are now being made, far off in Santa Claus land.

Local merchants, in keeping with the spirit of holiday cheer which is so soon to be with us again, are now ordering their Christmas stocks, and soon they will be in New Castle. Then the down town district will again be transformed into a miniature fairy land. Shop windows will blaze with colored lights, and, as in Never-Never land, dolls will blink cheerily at little girls, and drums and horns will inveigle small boys.

Dad, though: well, perhaps Dad does not view the approaching season with all of the joy which the children do. He will get his necktie and socks, then look at his bank book, and utter words, grotesque and arabesque. Who said the woman pays?

Old Saint Nick, however, never worries about who pays. He will come down the chimneys of New Castle, just as he did in years that are past, and just as he will in years to come. For he is a jolly old saint, never caring about a thing, just so his many young constituents are satisfied.

And he will satisfy them, to be sure he will! For Christmas comes but once a year, and on that day of days, Saint Nick, and everyone else, thinks of nothing but the boys and girls, and how much joy he can bring to them.

Perfect Teeth

Local Dentists Believe Estimate Of 20 Sets In United States Is Far Too Low

Sets of perfect natural teeth are scarce, it seems.

A prominent Chicago dentist recently stated that there are only 20 such sets in all America, although he added that this was a conservative estimate.

New Castle dentists believe that this is a very, very conservative estimate, in fact too conservative.

However, in an interview with several prominent New Castle dentists a News representative discovered that a few of them had seen many sets of perfect natural teeth during their practice.

One of the older dentists of the city stated that he believed that 20 sets of this kind could be found in this city alone. During his 30 years of practice, however, he has seen but two sets that could really be called perfect. He asserted that he has treated three generations of one family and finds that the members of the last generation have poorer teeth than the first generation. "This is due to lack of correct food. When a person chews something tough it is like exercising an arm or leg. The result is that the tooth becomes stronger." He believes that the dentists and the doctors in the future will be more acquainted with their patients' cases and render certain diets for the patients to go by, eliminating prescriptions altogether.

Dr. Edward Everett said the following when asked if he had ever seen a perfect set of teeth during his practice: "Up to the present time I believe that I have seen but two sets of perfect teeth. One set is not perfect now. Not long ago the girl that had this perfect set bit on a piece of candy and chipped a corner of the tooth off. A filling has been placed in it now. However, the other set is still perfect. I believe that there are more than 20 sets of perfect teeth in the country. While I was at the Mercy hospital in Pittsburgh I ran across more sets of perfect teeth in five months than I have here in five years."

Dr. J. G. McConaghy said: "I have never in all my practice seen a perfect set of teeth. I have examined many and have treated a few near-perfect sets. I could not say whether 20 sets in America is a conservative estimate or not."

Dr. A. R. Bauman said: "I have never seen a perfect set of teeth during my entire practice, although I have seen a few sets which were almost perfect. I believe that 20 sets of perfect teeth in America is a conservative estimate, although when a person sets out to find perfect sets they are mighty hard to find. I think that that will be more perfect sets in the future generations, due to the more preventative methods. In many cases I know of sets which could have been perfect, but because of ignorance the teeth were spoiled. This is not the case always, however. By perfect teeth the dentists do not mean that the teeth must be straight. They means that all teeth without fillings and the like are perfect."

A NEW WAY TO DRINK

Attempts To Collect $52 Debt From Man In Western Penitentiary

MERCER, Aug. 19.—An attempt to collect $52.75 alleged owed him by F. M. Shanklin of Dallas, Texas, now doing a two to four year stretch in the Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh, sentenced from Mercer county courts on a fraudulent conversion charge through the medium of assistance of Mercer county officials is the prayer of a letter received here today by Sheriff W. A. Bone from a prisoner in that penitentiary whose name is withheld.

The letter sets forth that Shanklin borrowed the sum of money set forth at various times promising prompt payment which the writer states he is failing to make good on.

As the borrower is released on September 23 he writes that the assistance of Mercer county authorities in helping him secure the money would be greatly appreciated as he will need the money.

Shanklin has been a front page story ever since his arrest here on the charge noted with subsequent trial and conviction.

He was taken to the penitentiary in January of 1926 following a dramatic chase which culminated with his arrest in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Jordan Writes Of Agriculture In State

Lawrence County Man, Secretary Of Agriculture, Tells Of Conditions In State In New Publication Issued At Harrisburg.

One of the most interesting booklets ever put out by the State of Pennsylvania has just come from the press under the title, "Pennsylvania Highways."

It is one of the first really serious attempts made to "sell Pennsylvania" and in the book are a wealth of interesting scenes, maps, and short articles on various phases of Pennsylvania life.

One article which is of interest to Lawrence County particularly is written by Dr. Charles G. Jordan of Volant, the Secretary of Agriculture. The article follows.

The story of Pennsylvania agriculture has been whispered into the ear of the world while that of her other industries has been shouted from the housetops. Is there any story worth hearing to be told about Pennsylvania agriculture? Listen:

The capital invested in agriculture in our State is second to that invested in any other industry. The value of the steam railroads in Pennsylvania is $2,155,558,395; of our farms and farm equipment $1,460,702,270; of mines and quarries $1,116,194,400, and steel and other raw metals $849,889,600. "Why," it will be said, "I never dreamed that the capital invested in agriculture is almost twice that invested in our steel and other raw metals," neither did the average citizen inside or outside of our State. For while Pennsylvania agriculture is spoken of once, other Pennsylvania industries are mentioned at least twenty times.

What do we produce that gives us such an exalted agricultural position? Can we successfully grow wheat in Pennsylvania? The average per acre yield of wheat in Pennsylvania is five bushels more than that of the nation's per acre average; is six bushels more per acre than in Kansas and seven bushels more per acre than in Oklahoma. Lancaster County farmers produce twice as much wheat per acre as the average yield per acre in Kansas. Yet when wheat is mentioned, the average citizen immediately conjures up a picture of the wheatfields of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and the Dakotas.

Can we grow corn? We grow on the average more corn per acre than any other state in the Union; seven bushels per acre more than in Illinois, which boasts of its supremacy in corn, and four bushels more per acres than in Iowa where corn is King.

If we so excel in the production of corn per acre, can we successfully grow hogs? If Iowa farmers raise fat growing hogs with a per acre yield of corn four bushels less than that of Pennsylvania and a price of $2 per 100 pounds less on the farm for hogs than is paid on the farms in Pennsylvania, surely Pennsylvania farmers can at least keep the ribs of their hogs covered.

"Eat a Pennsylvania Apple a Day and Keep the Doctor Away." The Pennsylvania apple in flavor excels our Oregon and Washington competitors. No state because of elevation, splendid air, drainage, mountain protection, has better conditions for the growing of fruit."

For six months let the railroads and hotels of Pennsylvania put on their bills of fare "Pennsylvania Baked Potatoes" and the famous Idaho potato will be forgotten. The Pennsylvania potato is whiter, more mealy than the Idaho potato and has a skin not one-fourth as thick and hard. We eat Idaho potatoes because they grade thoroughly, are wrapped in tissue paper and are advertised. Our slogan is "Early to Bed, Early to Rise, East Pennsylvania Potatoes and Advertise." In the production of potatoes, our State ranks third in the United States. It has but recently risen from seventh to third place. We can grow potatoes at the cost of the freight from Idaho or at approximately 60 cents per bushel.

"Selling Pennsylvania Farm Products to Pennsylvanians" is one of the chief problems and objectives of the Department of Agriculture. An aspect of their solution is of vital importance to every one of Pennsylvania's 10,000,000 people as virtually all we produce can be delivered over our splendid roads by wagon or truck, to the very door of the consumer, who reaps the benefit in lowered transportation charges and a consequent reduced consumer cost.

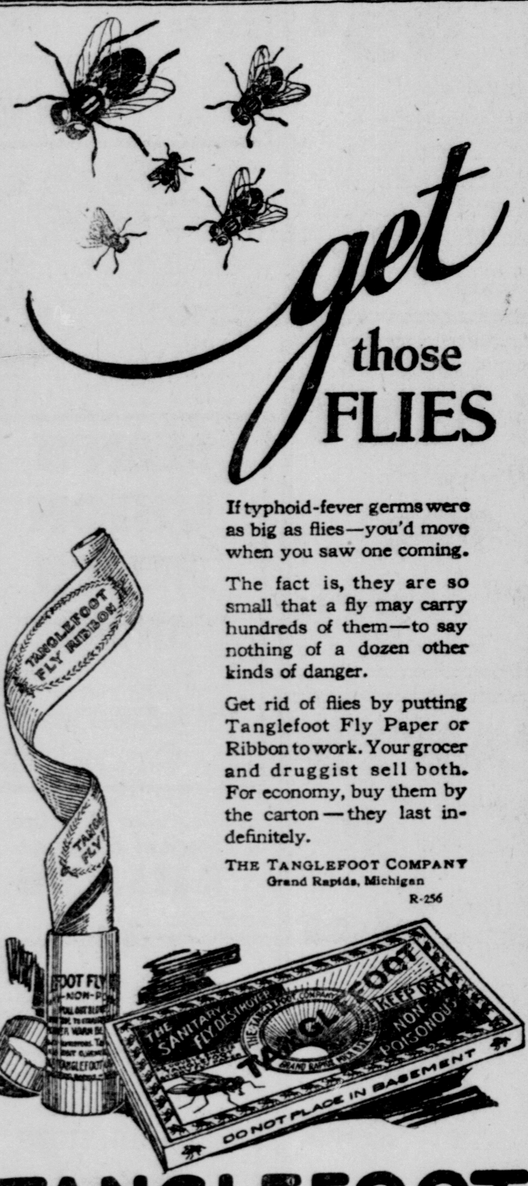
We are for good roads because they add to the farmer's pleasure and enable him to get his products speedily and at all seasons of the year to nearby markets. Let us worry less about our children paying the bills for road construction and more about our sticking in the mud. Our children will bless us and gladly pay the bills if we leave them the heritage of good roads, but will censure us if we do not.

Good Singing Is the Sheet Anchor of Minstrels

MIETT MILLER
Claironet Voiced Comedian Coming To The Scottish Rite Auditorium With Al. G. Field's Minstrels

It has often been asserted by minstrel reviewers that singing is the sheet anchor of minstrelsy, and there is no doubt but the assertion is founded in fact for without singing—spirited, harmonious vocal effects, the atmosphere of minstrelsy would be absent.

In the forty-first edition of the Al. G. Field Minstrels which will appear at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, New Castle, Tuesday, August 23, particular attention has been paid to the selection of the singing contingent, also as to the selection of solo and ensemble numbers. The program of popular numbers, as well as the judicious use of enough of the heart songs to inspire memories of the old times show, brands this forty first annual edition of this popular amusement institution as the supreme exemplification of the character of the southern negro, so interestingly presented in this black and white revue. The roster of singers includes Phil Pavey, lyric tenor; Harley Newland, silver voiced tenor; Harry Curran, Alpine yodler; Stan Chapin, robust tenor of poser and range; Russell Neff, high baritone; Carl Graves, baritone; Charles Page, basso and a large, well trained chorus.



BARGE SINKS; 37 ARE VICTIMS

(International News Service)

MANILA, Aug. 19.—Thirty-seven Filipino laborers are missing and feared to have drowned when a sudden storm swamped and sank the barge Leyden in Manila bay today.

Sixty passengers were saved. Twenty-six of them were taken to hospitals.

A typhoon of extraordinary velocity narrowly missed Manila, Father Coronas, head of the weather bureau here, reported today. The typhoon is sweeping across northern Luzon, from east to west, Father Coronas reported, with the center of the disturbance probably at Aparri, the northern most tip of the island.

Communications are broken. Great damage is feared to have been wrought at Aparri, 300 miles north of here.

An unknown American was the hero of the barge disaster. Three times he swam from shore to the mass of frantic humanity struggling in the bay. Each time he rescued a passenger. Then, putting on his clothes, he refused to give his name and pushed his way through the crowd.

Houk Presents Pretty Boquet

Princeton Road Man Brings Boquet Of Beauties To News

A gorgeous bouquet of gladiolas was presented to the business office of The News this morning by U. M. Houk of the Princeton road.

Among the different varieties was the original primulinus, from which all of the different varieties came. This one was yellow in color.

Mr. Houk said that the primulinus was the only variety of this flower raised a long time ago. Other beautiful varieties presented were the Marshal Foch, American Indian, the Rev. Ewbank which always grows crooked, the Evelyn Kirtland, Louise, Elora, Myra and the Prince of Wales.

The business force appreciates Mr. Houk's thoughtfulness.

EXTRAVAGANT FOLKS

It costs the government so much more to make a dollar bill than it does to mint a silver dollar that we would save a million a year if we liked silver dollars. But folks east of the Pacific coast want paper money and they are not worrying about Uncle Sam's expenses.

It's as easy to kick about economies as it is to kick about taxes.

THE PACE

Young women, doing with too little sleep and too many social engagements, are shortening their lives, so the head of the Life Extension Institute tells us. The death rate of girls and women between the ages of 17 and 32 is greater than that of boys and men. It takes a rugged body and pretty thick nerves to stand the social pace these days.

THE BELIEVING MIND

Little more than a hundred years ago hard coal couldn't be sold. A man trying to sell some in the streets of Philadelphia was threatened with jail on the charge that he was selling rocks. Now it's a luxury and brings a high price. It doesn't speak very well for man that he has lived so many thousands of years on the earth—and only yesterday learned some of the most obvious facts.

There are so many of us like the people who wouldn't buy hard coal, believing it to be rock. Some people are "easy". They believe everything they are told. Even at that, they contribute more to human progress, by far, than the narow, tight-minded ones who won't open the doors of their heads to anything they can't understand.

HE FINISHED THE JOB

A section hand on a New York state railroad was called to a telephone to be told he had inherited a fortune of half a million dollars. Before leaving for New York city to see lawyers he went back to his pick and shovel and finished his day's work. Evidently he's the kind of man who deserves a fortune.

PAYING DEBTS

A man from Oregon came back to a Wisconsin town the other day to pay the county a debt. Twenty years ago the county took care of him when he was sick. In health and prosperity he has not forgotten.

Perhaps the most perfect test of character is the way in which a man regards his obligations.

Jackson Center

Attorneys Joseph W. Nelson and W. J. Whieldon have filed a petition in U. S. District Court asking that the Mercer Iron and Coal Company who have the management of the local Cann & McCurdy coal mine be declared bankrupt. The company owes around $20,000 in wages to miners in this section. Individual sums as high as $1,000.

Martha Lelia Elder was in Mercer on Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Zittle and son Jay and daughter Ruth have returned home from a trip to Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Conrad, of Cannonsburg, Pa., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Noble.

Rev. S. C. Elder is attending the Grove City Bible School, which began August 19th and will continue until the 29th. Mr. Elder has attended the Bible School every year for the past fifteen years.

Arthur Watkins of New Castle, is visiting at the home of J. R. Evans this week.

H. H. Kauffman of State College, conducted a poultry culling demonstration at George Jones' farm on Tuesday.

Mrs. David Noble has returned home after spending the last week with her sons of Warren, Ohio. Little granddaughter Jean, returned with her.

Mrs. Bertha Infield called in Grove City on Monday.

Mrs. Samuel Infield and son Robert, also Carl Pizor spent Tuesday and Wednesday camping at Sugar Grove.

W. F. Zahniser celebrated his 83th birthday on Monday, the 15th. His son came up from New Castle and brought him a big cake. He is a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bestwick and daughter Juliana, stopped for a short time at Mrs. Bestwick's mother enroute home from Atlantic City.

Many oats are being cut in this section this week. With the outlook for a good yield.

SORE ITCHING RASH FOLLOWED BERRY-PICKING

Spread rapidly, but was checked at last and quickly healed

Carrolltown, Pa., Aug. 19:—"One day last year after picking berries my hand began to itch very badly. I scratched it but did not bother to put anything on it. Finally the place became red and sore and began to spread all over my hand. Then I became alarmed and seeing your advertisement I sent for a sample each of your Resinol Soap and Ointment. After using these samples the relief was so great, I purchased two full size cakes of Resinol Soap and two jars of Ointment and continued their use until my hand was finally healed. I can never thank you enough for what your Resinol has done for me, and I hope that all who have skin trouble will try these products."—(Signed) Agnes Frederick, Box 17.

Kegarises Plans For Local Airport Meet With Some Setbacks

Because the Alexander Aircraft corporation of Denver, has discontinued making the plane which was ordered about three weeks ago by Ralph Kegarise of 515 Winter avenue, the air line which he proposes to run between New Castle and Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, and New York will not be able to get under way until early next spring.

The Alexander Aircraft corporation is making a new model of the plane which Mr. Kegarise ordered, with changes in the engine and an enclosed cabin. These could not be delivered until November 1, and, due to the winter weather which will set in shortly after the planes could be delivered, Mr. Kegarise wired back to the company to hold his order until April 1, when his lease on a flying field, to be located opposite the New Castle Field Club on the New Wilmington road, will go into effect.

Mr. Kegarise has just completed a course of fifty flying hours at the Rodgers field at Aspinwall for his pilot's license. This is a government field, and although Mr. Kegarise holds a license which entitles him to act as pilot for a ship over British possessions, the United States will not issue him a license until he flies the required time from a government field. It will be remembered that Mr. Kegarise saw active service all through the late war with the British Royal Flying Corps both as a pilot and an observer.

TRAIN WRECK; CREW ESCAPES

(International News Service)

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Aug. 19.—Traffic on the Tamaqua-Williamsport division of the Reading railroad was restored to normal today, 11 hours after an engine and nine cars of a freight train were derailed at St. Nicholas, near here.

The train of three carloads of oats and hay and six empties, left the track, the engine plowing up 100 yards of rails. Members of the crew escaped injury by leaping from the cab.

Officials rerouted passenger trains via Pottsville, most trains running three hours behind schedule during the night.

A spread track was believed to have caused the wreck. No estimate of damage was available.

New Treatment For Tuberculosis

Report Considerable Success With Remedy In Treatment Of Herd Of Cows

SEATTLE, Aug. 19.—Patients suffering with tuberculosis in the Seattle hospital are to be treated by the Kirkpatrick remedy after it has already proved its virtue by a test on a herd of cows about to die of tuberculosis at the stockyards at Portland, Ore.

The remedy, which seems destined to be accepted as a sure cure for the terrible white scourge, was discovered by a veterinarian, Dr. George Kirkpatrick of Portland, Ore. He has tried it on animals and certain persons have also been apparently cured by the treatment.

At the tests that were started last March 10 cows that were about to die of tuberculosis were isolated and given the treatment, but before the treatment could be given two died, and soon afterward a third died. The other seven were treated for 130 days, five days of one dose of medicine a day alternating with five days with only hay and grain.

At the end of the 130 days the cattle were killed and a post mortem examination held by Dr. Jacob Traum of the Department of Veterinary Science, University of California, assisted by Dr. A. J. Dinse, United States inspector at the Swift & Company plant. The examination was made before many veterinarians, bacteriologists, heads of tubercular sanitariums and health officers far and near.

A thorough examination was made of all the organs and flesh of the animals and samples of glandular material taken for microscopic examination at the University of California. The scientists would give no definite decision until they had made a thorough microscopic examination, but the United States inspector, as he decided that the carcasses of all the cows would make first-class meat, said: "These were typical tubercular cows a few months ago. You could hang your hat on their bones. Look at them now. It is one of the most remarkable things I have ever encountered in my life. They had gained from 300 to 500 pounds each.

Commissioner of Health for the city of Seattle, E. T. Hanley, who was present at the inspection, placed an order for a supply of the remedy, which is being supplied free by Dr. Kirkpatrick for the treatment of tuberculosis patients in the Seattle Sanitorium.

PEACH CROP IS UNDER NORMAL

Some Of Early Varieties In State Are Now Reaching Market.

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19.—The early ripening varieties of Pennsylvania peaches are now available at many retail markets and roadside stands, according to the State Bureau of Markets.

The Elberta and Hale varieties from Franklin, Adams, York, Cumberland and Berks counties will be available during the week of August 29. However, the great portion of the crop will be marketed after the first of September.

The peaches now moving to market are reported of excellent quality. The crop is estimated to be 932,000 bushels, which is only about one-third of normal, and about 1,600,000 less than last year's heavy crop. The average crop of the past five years has been 1,656,000 bushels.

During the peach marketing, most of the carlot shipments from Franklin, Adams, Cumberland, York and Berks counties will be packed according to the new standard peach grades which were adopted on July 1, and inspected by representatives of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Consumers will find the "U. S. No. 1" grade generally satisfactory as such fruit must be sound, clean, well formed, and mature but not overripe. If buyers want to be sure of securing fruit of bright color for the variety, they should endeavor to purchase the "U. S. Fancy" grade. In either case, consumers can be assured that the fruit will be the same grade from the top to the bottom of the container.

Few Candidates Secure Many Names On Their Petitions

Lawrence county candidates for the various offices to be filled this year are apparently content to get just the number of names required for the office, or a few more.

Examination of the petitions of candidates now in the office of the county commissioners reveals the fact that few of the county office petitions have more than the required 100, most of them running from 102 to 110. In only one instance is there any considerable overplus of names on a petition, this being on that of John B. Haley, candidate for prothonotary and clerk of courts. This petition carries 161 names.

davits given to Governor Alvan T. Fuller and is advisory review committee of three distinguished citizens—President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard; President Samuel W. Stratton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Judge Robert Grant. They found Judge Thayer "indiscreet" in conversations about "Reds" outside the courtroom but fair and impartial while on the bench.

The full bench which handed down the decision today consisted of Justice Henry K. Braley, Edward P. Pierce, William Cushing Wait and James B. Carroll.

Dismiss Petition.

The full bench also dismissed a petition for a writ of coram nobis, which had been filed at the conclusion of the hearing on the various exceptions.

The court held that the issuance of a writ of error rests solely within the discretion of a single justice in capital cases.

The full bench made no attempt to pass on the alleged prejudice of Trial Judge Thayer.

The writ of error coram nobis was addressed to the full bench but the court stated that such a writ had become obsolete in view of the "plain intentions of the legislature" as manifest by recent statutes, stating that a writ of error shall not issue unless granted by a single justice. A new trial, the full bench held, must be requested before sentence is passed. The decision hinged wholly around points of law.

The Decision.

The decision, which was about one thousand words in length and was written by Justice Braley follows:—

"Braley, J, the defendants, Sacco and Vanzetti, who were indicted tried and convicted of murder in the first degree alleged exceptions to rulings at the trial as well as to the denials of numerous motions for a new trial on various grounds and to rulings on law thereon which were overruled and a rescript was sent accordingly on May 18, 1926.

"Commonwealth vs. Sacco 255 Mass. 369. The defendants on May 25, 1926 filed a motion in the trial courts for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence which was denied subject to the exceptions of the defendants duly entered and argued in this court on April 5, 1927. These exceptions were overruled. Commonwealth vs. Sacco Mass. Adv. Sh. 1927, 621.

"The argument for the defendants was full and exhaustive covering every error claimed to have been committed either at the trial or any subsequent proceeding and it was decided as a matter of law there was evidence which would warrant a jury in finding the defendants guilty on April 9, 1927. Sentence of death was imposed in accordance with General Laws Chapter 265. The defendants were delivered to the sheriff in execution of their sentence and application for executive clemency was made under the provision of Chapter 2 Section 1 Article 8. Constitution of the commonwealth.

"The application having grounds of newly discovered evidence and for revocation sentence at the hearing of the motion, the trial judge refused not only to rule as requested by the defendants, but denied the motions and the defendants excepted, raising the question presented by the record in the first of these cases at bar.

"It is contended that the affidavits in support of the motions show such prejudice against them by the presiding judge at the trial, on the merits that they have been deprived of their constitutional rights to a trial by judges as 'free and impartial as the lot of humanity will admit', by general laws section 278, 29, as amended by statute 1922, chapter 308.

"A motion for a new trial in capital cases comes too late if made after sentence has been pronounced. It is within the limitation expressed in the statute commonwealth vs. Rollins, 242 Mass. 427, 430. Dasealakis vs. commonwealth, 244 Mass. 368, 569. Commonwealth vs. Sacco, 255, Mass. 369, 410. See states Cushing 11 R I, 31,3.

"Now come to so much of this motion as asked for a revocation of sentence. The proceedings already referred to before the motion was filed when reviewed, show no error of law and the cases were ripe for sentence or judgment. The jurisdiction of the trial court ended under st. 1922, C 50, 8, par 1, when the defendants were committed to execution.

"Application for such motion for revision of sentence is like a motion for a new trial. (Commonwealth vs. Lobel 187 Mass 288 289) the defendants, therefore, have failed to show error.

"The judicial conduct of the trial judge in hearing and deciding the motion bases on his own alleged bias or prejudice although urged in argument by counsel for the defendants need not be discussed because as we have just said neither the judge nor any of his associates had jurisdiction to entertain the motion.

"The second case is a petition for a writ of error filed in this court August 6, 1927. It was heard and denied subject to the petitioner's exceptions by a single justice on the petition which contained the following assignments of error.

"Number 1. It appears from the affidavits filed and made a part of the record of said case in the superior court that the honorable Webster Thayer the justice of said court who presided over the trial of said cases and who subsequently passed upon various motions with respect thereto was so prejudiced against your petitioners and their counsel from the time of the beginning of said trial to and throughout hearings and rulings upon said motions that your petitioners have not had such a trial as that to which they are entitled under the constitutions of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and of the United States of America and that they have not had such a trial as constituted due process of law within the meaning of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution nor a trial by a judge as free impartial and independent as the lot of humanity will admit as required by Article XXIX of the Declaration of the Rights of the inhabitants of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"It appears from the record of the proceedings including the substance of all the material evidence offered at the trial that the finding of the jury was plainly wrong.

"It appears from the record of the proceedings including the affidavits filed in support of the several motions for a new trial that the findings of fact made by the presiding judge in passing upon the petitioners several motions for new trial are plainly wrong.

"It is provided by general law code 250, paragraph 11, as amended by ST 1925 C 279 paragraph 1 and ST 1926 C 329 paragraph 17 that in capital cases a writ of error shall not issue unless allowed by a justice of this court after notice given to the attorney general or to other attorneys of the commonwealth.

"The working of the statute is clear and must be construed as meaning that the issues or issuance of a writ of error in the capital case rests in the sound judicial discretion of the single justice to whom the application is presented.

"If we were to decide otherwise the plain intentions of the legislature to discourage and prevent unnecessary delay would be defeated. This appears in note 16 to the draft revision of chapter 112. On a proposed revised statutes on page 224 in the report of the commissioners to revise the general statutes of the commonwealth in 1834.

"Our system of procedure in criminal cases makes ample provision for the protection of the rights of those who are charged with the commission of crime by exceptions, by motion for a new trial before sentence has been passed and by petition for a discretion—46 writ of error, either before or after sentence. It furthermore may be said that the assignment of error of facts not being connected with questions of jurisdiction is not open on the present record, (Riley vs. Vaugh.)

"The case of Hall vs. Thayer 105 Mass 218 and kindred cases which depend on statutes expressly limiting the jurisdiction of the court are distinguishable. It is not contended by by the petitioners that the single justice abused his powers or that his action was arbitrary and unjustifiable. The petition was rightly denied.

"The third and last case is a petition filed August 16, 1927, addressed to the full court for a writ of error coram nobis.

"Prior to the enactment of the revised statutes our statutes referring to writs of error made no change in the mode of procedure at common law.

White 7, Mass., 448,449. But by R. S. C. 2, Sec. 16, 17, in so far as here material, it provided that a writ of error in a capital case shall not issue unles granted by a single justice of this court. And this provision has remained unchanged. G. S. C. 146, Sec. 13, 14. P. S. C. 187, Sec. 10, 12. R. L. C. 193, Sec. 11. G. L. C. 250, Sec. 11. A period of 91 years has elapsed since the original statute was enacted in 1836 during which time it has been uniformly followed. Sec. Webster vs. commonwealth, 5 Cush. 28 6.

"We are of opinion that a writ of error coram nobis at common law has become obsolete in view of the express purpose of the legislature as manifested by the statute. Commonwealth vs. Rollins, 242, Mass. 427, 430, 431. We have considered all questions presented by the defendants insofar as they are pertinent, and the result is, in the first and second cases, the exceptions are overruled, while in the third case the petition is dismissed. So ordered."

RAILROAD POLICE JOIN IN SEARCH

Officers In Vicinity Of Oil City Join In Hunt For Fugitives

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 19.—Railroad police along the entire route of the Allegheny valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad were today engaged in the hunt for John Vassbinder, the prisoner who escaped with Paul Jaworski, condemned murderer, from the Allegheny county jail in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Vassbinder was originally arrested here by Captain George Carr and two deputies of the railroad police. Vassbinder was charged at that time with the robbery of the Pennsylvania railroad station at Parkers' Landing, after having tortured an aged grocer. While in the Clarion jail awaiting trial he was identified as the man sought for a murder in Duquesne, Pa.

Although Vassbinder's wife resides in Monessen, police here believe that he may try to find a hiding place in the hills in the upper Allegheny valley.

There's a bright side. Enough has happened since the great war to start a dozen more if people hadn't been fed up.

CITY TO ASK PAVING BIDS

Approve Specifications For Greenwood Avenue, Young Street Jobs.

Council today approved plans and specifications for the paving of two thoroughfares, one on the north hill and the second on the west side.

One thoroughfare is Young street, between Wallace and Lincoln avenues, and the other is Greenwood avenue between West Washington and State streets.

After the plans and specifications had been approved, Councilman D. O. Davies made a motion that "the city advertise for bids."

"Do you know what this will cost?" asked his colleague, Genkinger.

"About $8,000", replied Davies.

"The city will have to purchase property" informed Mr. Genkinger.

"I will second the motion and we will see when the bids come in" said Councilman Burns, adding that bids also be asked separately on each project.

UNION-SHENANGO SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON AUGUST 29

School for the boys and girls in the city of New Castle does not open until September 7, but the youngsters of Union and Shenango townships will have many classes by them on that date. County Superintendent John C. Syling stated today that these schools would open on August 29.

Dr. Robertson To Preach At First Church On Sunday

Dr. A. T. Robertson of the Presbyterian Seminary at Louisville, Ky., one of the leading Bible scholars of the country and popular at many Bible Conferences will preach at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, August 21.

Dr. Robertson is one of the lecturers at the Grove City Bible school that is being held at Grove City starting today. This opportunity to hear him in the New Castle church has been made possible only because he happens to be so near and that arrangements for his coming to New Castle were made weeks ago.

Dr. Robertson is one of the outstanding Greek scholars in the world today and his contribution to the exposition of the New Testament has laid the world under obligations to his pen. He is a popular lecturer at Bible conferences, a great teacher and a great preacher. With his scholarship he combines loyalty to the Gospel, a fine loyalty to Christ and devotion to his church and Kingdom. Few names in Christendom today add such weight to the profession of evangelical traditions. He will bring a wonderful message which all should hear.

Miss Helen Heffernan former commissioner of elemntary education will herafter supervise education in schools outside the incorporated cities of California.

Mrs. E. Robinson of 604 McCleary avenue complained to the police last night that at 8:30 o'clock the McCleary avenue crossing had been blocked by a Pennsylvania freight train for about 30 minutes. She also stated that this was an almost nightly occurrence. The police took the matter up with the trainmaster of the Pennsylvania railroad and he promised to remedy the matter.

Hoover, Mellon, Dawes, Hughes, Longworth All Have Local Followers

Who do you think should succeed President Calvin Coolidge as the Republican party nominee for President next year, a News man asked.

Here are some of the replies:

Dorothy Kearns, stenographer, Weingartner and Mercer: Charles G. Dawes is my choice for the next President.

Marshall L. McMillin, master mechanic, street department; Nicholas Longworth would be, without a doubt, my choice for the next President of the United States in case Coolidge refuses the nomination.

R. H. Cage, Cage Brothers: Dawes is the man for the next President.

William Brown, Croton avenue: Andrew Mellon is the man that I would choose if my say meant anything.

W. J. Jones, highway department: Hughes is whom I should select.

R. L. Smith, highway department: I will stand with my fellow worker and select Hughes.

Roy J. Ballard, clerk, Fountain Inn: For the next Republican nominee I think Dawes would be a good man. Perhaps Mellon would be a trifle better, but we must remember that he is getting rather old now, and perhaps he could not leave his Pittsburgh bank.

Rose Rice, clerk, Leslie Hotel: It really doesn't make much difference to me, but I would like to see Dawes hold down the Presidential chair.

Jack Dunfee, local manager, Bell Telephone: Nicholas Longworth would be my choice for the next President, in case Mr. Coolidge refuses to run.

Thomas J. Harper, district manager, Bell Telephone: Hoover is a big man, and I think that logically he is next in line. A big business man, he is next in the field.

Joseph R. McFate, Muse and Jamison: Andrew Mellon is without a doubt the biggest man in the field today.

B. M. Hanlon, New Castle Motor Club: Although Mr. Coolidge "chooses" not to run, I still think that he will be the next Republican candidate for President.

Helen Brown, stenographer: If Coolidge runs, I believe that the Republican party will select him as the next candidate, but if he remains firm in his intentions, then Charles G. Dawes would be my choice for the next President.

Martha Muse, student: Without a doubt, Herbert Hoover is the best man in the running.

Return To City From Convention

Delegates Back From Ivorite Gathering; Other Welsh News Notes

By W. A. JOHNS

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Thomas and children, Margaret and Lethin, and John M. Davies of Park avenue, Miss Flonie Davies of Waldo street, delegates of the Martha Lodge, and Henry T. Jones of Waldo street, are back home from the annual convention of the Ivorite Order, which was held at the city of Utica, from August 9 to August 12, under the auspices of the ladies' lodge of Utica. They report having a glorious time and a great work was performed by the officers and delegates.

The convention elected the following officers: grand president, Albert C. Foulkes, Bangor, Pa.; grand vice president, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Utica, N. Y.; grand secretary, Griffith Thomas, New Castle; grand treasurer, William E. Jones, New York City; grand librarian, R. O. Williams, Utica, N. Y. The convention made a new move this year by electing a lady as grand vice president. This is the first time a lady has been elected a national officer of the order, and it has been in existence for over 59 years.

The Thomas family made the trip in their automobile. Coming back they stopped at Niagara Falls and spent a few days taking in the sights there.

Other Notes

News has come back from the national eisteddfod of Wales at Holyhead that the adjudicators withheld the prize on the chief poem. The prize was 20 pounds sterling, with an oak chair. The prize was donated by Col. W. H. Owens of Canada and the chair was given by Mrs. F. A. Waring, Liverpool, Eng. There were 10 poems in the competition and when the adjudicators rendered their decision the audience was thrown into a deep sad feeling and a gloomy atmosphere was all over the place because this day was the most noted in the history of of the eisteddfod. Thousands of people had attended there to witness the chairing of the winner, but they were disappointed.

John Evans of the Cash Buyers store and others are back from Youngstown, where they attended the anual Welsh reunion of the Youngstown Welsh people. The president of the day was the well-known Welshman, J. W. Wooley of Youngstown. The duty of the secretary was carried out with faithfulness by Edward S. Jones of Youngstown. Sports were held in the afternoon for old and young and in the evening a great song festival was held at the Idora Park theater. Old familiar Welsh hymns were sung with great inspiration. The Masonic male party of Youngstown, under the conductorship of Prof. H. Davies rendered a good many selections.

CONFESSES DOPE TRAFFIC

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Arrests of several men today may follow startling information given by Pike Harper, sergeant of guards at the Eastern penitentiary in a written confession, exposing wholesale operations of a ring of dope peddlers.

Dope traffic said to have been carried on within the walls of the prison, is declared by police to be only a part of the operations of the drug ring.

Harper was four hours getting his confession on paper.

Federal, city and prison authorities are probing the activities of the "dope ring."

It is a curious fact that of Mr. Dawes' 29 predecessors in the vice presidency the only one who survives is Calvin Coolidge, now president.

Getting down to facts

Wouldn't you rather buy your tires on our cash plan & save 25%, 35%

than help us pay the high salaries of a bookkeeper—two service men and the cost of expensive equipment, necessary if we change our plan of doing business? That is just what it amounts to. We all know everything must be paid for by someone. If all these expenses are there, someone has to pay for them. If the 25% to 35% was taken from the profits of the dealer—he would not stay in business. The answer is clear. If these extras are worth the additional cost—then lets pay for them. If you want the most for your dollar—then you will agree you get it here. A check of prices will prove it.

America's Foreign Trade For 1927 To Reach Large Sum.

SALES ABROAD NEAR FIVE BILLION

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—America's foreign trade for 1927 is steering towards a favorable balance of nearly $1,000,000,000.

Figures at the Commerce Department today indicated that sales abroad may reach $5,300,000,000 establishing an all-time record for normal years. Only during the war and the post-war reconstruction period have American foreign sales been higher than in 1927.

Exported goods represent about 10 per cent of the total production, disclosing the country's remarkable domestic consumption capacity.

Owing to the heavy decline in rubber and other raw material prices from last year imports are expected to be considerably lower. Present figures indicate that the United State will purchase abroad goods valued at about $4,300,000,000 this year.

Officials said that the progress in foreign trade is gratifying. More and more the United States is becoming self-sufficient, buying less raw material abroad and exporting greater quantities of manufactured goods.

Prices Driven Down

Even in those commodities essential to American industry but not produced here, foreign monopolistic control has been rendered less effective and prices driven down.

For the first six months of the year this country bought 499,423,000 pounds of crude rubber valued at $184,712,000, an increase in quantity of 36,589,000 pounds but a cut in price of $137,000,000.

Coffee imports amounted to 682,796,000 pounds, valued at $132,000,000, a fall in quantity of 36,500,000 pounds and in value of $29,000,000.

Foreign trade in textiles surpassed that of any other general group. The six months exports were $471,596,000, over $40,000,000 ahead of last year, while imports of $483,457,000 were $35,000,000 less.

Cotton exports amounted to 5,221,360 bales, surpassing last year by 2,000,000 bales, although low prices put the total value at $471,594,000 a boost of less than $50,000,000.

Machinery and vehicle exports amounted to $441,110,000, about $50,000,000 over last year. Automobile exports, in this group, gained $40,000,000 to a total of $229,062,000. Exports of other manufactured goods were heavier and imports of similar commodities lower.

Trade figures show that the American Chemical Industry is moving steadily ahead, exports exceeding imports for the first time. In the six months chemical products valued at $68,000,000 were exported against $63,000,000 imported.

Public Schools Of Grove City To Open September 6

Successful Term Is Indicated — Teaching Force Is Completed

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Aug. 19. — The Public Schools of Grove City will open for the fall season on September 6, according to the announcement of Superintendent H. M. B. Lehn. A special meeting of the teachers of the various schools will be held the evening previous for the purpose of receiving final instructions.

The board of education has completed the hiring of new teachers to fill the several vacancies and all indications point to one of the largest and most successful years in the history of the public institution.

With the completion of the installation of the new heating system in the Central Grade School Building, all the various buildings have been put in readiness for the coming school year.

Grove City residents of the East End are looking forward with anticipation to the coming primary election when local voters will give their decision on the $50,000 bond issue being asked by the Board of Education for a new school building in that end of the town. The East End, which has had a remarkable growth within the past few years, has no school building closer than the Lincoln school, and the residents claim that the distance is too great for their youngsters to walk and too dangerous through the traffic. The site for the new building is already owned by the city and all that is needed is to pass the bond issue at the election. The question has been brought up before the board of education a number of times but as yet nothing has been accomplished.

OFFER $30,000 REWARD TO AID FLYER SEARCH

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 19.—More than three score navy and merchant ships, seaplanes and a long chain of radio stations intensified their search today for the missing trans-Pacific planes "Miss Doran" and "Golden Eagle."

Hope that had sprung up when a press message from Honolulu reported the "Miss Doran" safe in Keanae on the Island of Maui, with its three occupants dwindled throughout the night as later messages arrived from Honolulu and Keanae stating that the original report was unfounded.

Rewards totaling $30,000 have been offered. James A. Dole, sponsor of the great overseas derby, offered $20,000 for the finding of the airplanes and their occupants while the San Francisco Examiner offered $10,000 for the saving of the crew of the Hearst plane "Golden Eagle."

The Naval Radio Service, the Federal Telegraph Company, which operates a commercial wireless service over the Pacific, and amateur radio operators all picked up messages from Honolulu branding the Keanae report of the finding of the "Miss Doran" as false.

MILK PRICES TAKE A JUMP

Dairymens League Members To Receive $2.24 For July Product

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A net pool price of $2.24 per 100 pounds for 3.5 milk was announced by the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., as the basis upon which payment will be made to its members for July milk.

This price is 11 cents per hundred higher than the return for June milk. The increase was due to sale of a larger percentage of the association's milk in the higher priced classifications, and despite the fact that quantity of milk and number of pooling producers were larger than in July, 926.

Production reports from the country show that nearly 2,500 more farmers pooled their milk through the Dairymen's league last month than in the same month a year ago. The total quantity of milk handled above the total of July last year.

In view of the pleasant and colorful ceremony at Deadwood, one wonders if Mr. Coolidge will choose to run for Sioux chief again next year. —The Seattle Daily Times.

Armed Speed Boats Wait Near Toledo For Rum Runners

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, Aug. 19.—A small but grimly vigilant guard waits along the coast of Lake Erie as darkness approaches—a tiny fleet of speed boats, armed to the teeth and manned by crews who wait tensely, sensing that on some night in the near future they face a crisis.

The guard is that maintained by the U. S. customs service, its enemy the omnipresent rum-runner.

And with prices on Canadian liquor soaring to higher and higher marks, the man who can take a ship successfully and run the gauntlet of that guard will win himself a small fortune.

The guard knows it, and knows too that one night the attempt will be made—not an attempt with a small boat, loaded with several cases. These are common. But a real ship, carrying thousands of dollars worth of liquor—that's what the guard is watching for.

And when it comes, it will come with a rush. Other big boats, knowing that the tiny guard will have its hands full, will take their chances on slipping through at the same time.

The little guard isn't guessing. Just across the invisible line which separates American and Canadian waters, there's another fleet—waiting, waiting, just as the guard is waiting.

Both sides are in ominous expectancy—engines cut off, lights out.

Bakerstown Men Get Cub Bear In Canada

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 19.—Although it is a hard matter to get liquor across the Canadian border, it seems that it is very easy to bring a cub bear into the United States, according to a statement made by F. R. Marshall of the Bakerstown garage and Jake Morris of Gibsonia, who have just returned from Canada with the cub.

Mr. Marshall says that while on a fishing trip into Canada they had the fortune to see two cub bears and their mother cross the road directly in front of their automobile.

Stopping the car they found that one of the cub bears had crawled up a tree while the mother and the other cub retreated into the woods. They finally coaxed the cub from the tree and brought him home.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—French pancakes make a nice dessert. Beat four eggs in an omelet and add four teaspoonsful of flour and four of sugar. Mix this gently and pour in a glass of milk a half teaspoonful of vanila and a hand full of raisins.

Melt a good sized piece of butter in the frying pan and pour in your omelet. When one side is done turn over with a flat plate. Serve very hot.

Sheep Hill Girl Writes To News About Playground

Tells Of Activities At Muny Playground In Interesting Way

(By MARY JAKOWICZ)

As often as I have visited playgrounds, I might as well say that the Sheep Hill playground is the best one that I know of. The children there are not rough to each other and obey everything that they are told.

Now, I might as well start telling something about our playground. We have all kinds of things to play with, including volley ball, basket ball, baseball, quoits, horseshoes, golf balls and other things with which we surely do have lots of fun. We also have swings, see-saws and sliding boards for the children and also baby swings. I shall also write about our special events that we have each Friday. Each Friday we have different kind of events. I am going to write about the events that we have had during the past summer.

One Friday we had a pet show and many children brought all kinds of pets. Those who brought the biggest dog, the smallest dog, the cutest dog, and so on were winners. One Friday we had broad jumping and sliding across lines. We also completed sewing that surely brought results to our playground. Miss Mackey is the teacher of our sewing class. She teaches us how to make all kinds of things.

There is also a library at our playground and I heard that the children at the Sheep Hill playground are very interested in it. I hope they keep this up.

At the beginning of this article I wrote about the amusements at the playground. Now I am going to write about the playground itself.

It has many young trees around it. It also has a garden about it. The garden is just lovely and has every kind of flower you can think of growing in it. It is decorated with nice stones around it and these initials are written in the center, S. H. P. G. We, the girls and boys of this playground, are working hard for points of honor so that we can obtain an honor ribbon.

On the 26th of August we are going to have a picnic at the Gaston Park playground. We will receive our ribbons of honor there.

Miss Tucker is the teacher at our playground. We surely love her. She works hard for the playground and is a good teacher. Our playground is just a new one and it is going along fine.

It seems obvious from the schoolgirls on holiday I have seen that they are forsaking the shingle—whatever their mothers are doing! Pigtails, ringlets and hair ribbons are almost back to pre-war standard.—London Chronicle.

Col. L. C. Brinton Helped To Build This Monument During Civil War Days

HISTORIC MONUMENT AT BULL RUN.

The above picture of the monument of the battle of Bull Run was recently taken by John C. Brinton, son of Col. L. C. Brinton of this city and recalls many scenes to the mind of the aged veteran who was engaged in this first battle of the Civil war and with his regiment helped build the monument.

Mr. Brinton, son of the veteran recently made a trip to Gettysburg and to the battlefield of Bull Run and among the pictures he took is this one of the monument that his father helped build and a picture of the stone bridge over which his father's regiment was forced to retreat in this first battle of the war.

In May, 1865 Col. Brinton's regiment was detailed to return to the battlefield at Bull Run and bury the dead there. Col. Brinton helped in this task and they erected the monument on the site. The monument is built out of rough stone and was erected without the aid of mortar or cement. It consists of a tall pillar of stone and four smaller pillars, one at each corner. Each one of the pillars is topped with a large cannon ball which was gathered from the battlefield. Within the monument may still be seen pieces of shrapnel and bullets that were gathered up at the time.

Col. Brinton although he now is 86 years old, hopes that before he dies he may be able to visit the battlefield. His son says that he sees no reason why the trip cannot be made. The battlefield may be reached by auto, as it lies right on the Lee highway and is paved all the way from Washington, D. C. to just beyond the battlefield of Bull Run.

The battlefield site was bought by the Daughters of Confederate Veterans and is kept in fine shape. Many relics of the battle may be seen there.

Col. Brinton's regiment, the 105th Artillery was engaged in the battle of Bull Run and in the retreat they were forced to cross a narrow stone bridge and many were crowded off and drowned in the swollen stream. the regiment at that time was commanded by Col. Gallop.

Ten Miles Of Wall Paper Being Hung In Bed Rooms Of "The Castleton" In City

"There was a time," remarked Robert Mackie, the well known wallpaper merchant of this city, today, "when we did not put paper on the walls of a new home or building of any kind, until the white plaster had become almost black through wear and tear and the accumulation of smut from various methods of heating.

"But now it's all different," he continued, "as may be seen in the foresight shown by the owners of "The Castleton," this city's big community hotel, for we now have a force of four men busily engaged in papering the walls and ceiling of the 160 bedrooms of that big building, previous to its opening October 1."

Why Paper The Rooms

"And what's the reason," queried the representative of The News.

"Ah, I expected that and it's well that you asked," replied Mr. Mackie, "so that the public may better understand the reason. This is the age of improvements of all kinds, and usually based on something that will add to the comfort of man.

"Now when you come to the travelling public, the reason for papering the rooms of hotel is easy of explanation. The traveller although far from home, likes those home surroundings just the same as the person, who spends all their life at home. And decorated walls, especially those on which there is wallpaper, are homelike. Therefore if you would have a contented patron in the modern hotel, strange as it may seem, you should have wallpaper on the rooms, where he or she as the case may be, is making his or her home, while they are stopping there. And wallpaper gives that homelike atmosphere, which is dear to all of us, even the most travelled. That's the very reason that the railroads are today decorating the walls of their Pullman cars, used in transcontinental travel to California and other far points, with the same type of paper that is being used in The Castleton."

New Type of Paper

This point settled, Mr. Mackie, who has been awarded the contract for papering the 160 bedrooms of The Castleton, went on to explain the modern type of paper that is being used there.

The bedrooms are being papered with Perma Kote wallpaper, the very latest idea in wallpaper. The paper used will be as permanent and lasting as frescoing and paint and more easily kept in good condition. In fact it is something very different from just ordinary wallpaper.

Dirt, grease, dust or even ink stains and spots can easily be removed with a damp cloth or soap and water, without any damage to the wall cover, he said. This is made possible through the use in the manufacture of the paper of a coating, which brings out the beauty of design and the coloring in the wallpaper, that is not discernable in the ordinary wallpaper.

It is printed on extra heavy stock, which makes these hangings exceptionally good wearing and fine appearing. Seven designs have been selected by the hotel committee to be used in the papering of the bedrooms. They are beautiful new style designs which will give the rooms that homelike appearance that all appreciate.

Use Ton Of Wallpeper

For the smaller bedrooms a reproduction of an old English calico print has been selected. In the medium sized rooms, a Chippendale design in delightful colorings has been selected. For the larger rooms, two copies of old English Chintz will be used, while for the extra large guest rooms, a two tone ornamental design will be made use of. The papers used will be in harmony with the draperies, carpets and furnishings of the various rooms.

Some idea of the magnitude of the papering job undertaken by Mr. Mackie is seen in the fact that there will be over two thousand rolls of paper required to cover the 160 rooms to be papered. There will be nearly ten miles of eighteen inch wallpaper used. There will also be over two miles of band decoration or border required to complete the job.

The paper used will weigh something over a ton, which indicates that there will be considerable paper and it will require four paper hangers thirty days to put it on. The work was started today and it will be completed shortly after the middle of September.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY KEEP WELL

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Here is Proof

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. The condition I was in made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask "How is housekeeping?" and he says, "It is just like being in Heaven!"

DINNER STORIES

HIS SLANT ON IT

They tell the story of a famous actor who was often accustomed to show a great interest in the lesser lights about him. One day he was good-naturedly conversing with one of his stage hands. "And what, my man, is your vocation?" queried the condescending matinee idol.

"I'm a Baptist," was the reply.

"No, no, good fellow, that is your belief. I want to know your vocation. For example, I am an actor."

Said the scene shifter: "Naw, that's your belief."

DECLARES GIRLS ARE MORE LOYAL

Find Fewer Faults With Young Men Than Latter Do With Them

By THE CUB REPORTER

Whatever one may say, the girls of New Castle are more loyal to their gentlemen friends than the same gentlemen friends are to the girls.

"What is the habit of your fiance which annoys you most?" was the question, and it was only answered five times out of 20 inquiries.

And of these five answers from the girls of the town, three accused the male in question with smoking, and the other two say that their friends are always late and never at a place when they say they will be.

Different Story.

But gentlemen tell a different story. "She is always late," grumbled one man. "Never is she on time. When she says that she will be down in a minute, then I go into the living room, take one of her father's cigars, and compose myself for a quiet evening by the fire. There is an old saying that if a woman keeps one man waiting for ten minutes, she will keep six men waiting an hour. I believe it. But I do wonder what the total deficit will be at the end of the week."

Another young blade says that his bit of charm is probably the most sarcastic girl in New Castle. "Yes," he says sadly, "Kathryn always has some little cutting remark on the end of her tongue, and usually it is so true that one cannot say anything back. So I grin and bear it. Some day, though, I shall marry her, and then I may feel able to take my own part."

"No Bad Habits?"

Girl, though, either fail to remember the little things which often go to break up a romance, or they are loath to tell about them. "No, my man has no bad habits," stated one young lady. "Everything that he does is O. K. with me. If it were not that way, then we would not go around together."

When asked if their young men were prompt, most of the ladies admitted that the men in question were the soul of promptness, they never missed an appointment, and if the young ladies were held up for a few minutes, they never grumbled.

And that is the story. Draw from it what moral you will.

GREAT OUTING AT LAKEWOOD

Several Hunderd Builders' Supply Company Employes Enjoy Day.

MANY FEATURES MARK OUTING

A caravan of 50 trucks and pleasure cars brought hundreds of men, women and children from Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Lawrence county to the Builders Supply picnic at Lakewood Beach yesterday, where from the time of their arrival until late in the evening a good time was enjoyed by all in every spot of the pleasure grounds.

A wonderful program was planned and carried out by the following committee: H. C. Goehring of Beaver, C. W. Blank of Ellwood City and Earl Ramsey of New Castle, assisted by Harry L. Miller, secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Builders Supply organization.

One of the outstanding features was a baseball game between the Wreckers and Builders. The Wreckers won the "hotly contested" game by the score of 22 to 2. The high lights of the game was the pitching of Freeling of the Wreckers who barely allowed a hit, also the unfaltering umpiring of John Pattison. His decisions were of the highest character and cheered by the multitude that eagerly watched the game. So terrific was the hitting of the Wreckers that two balls and three bats were needed to complete the game.

Miss Irma Steinecke of Pittsburgh, the hostess to the kiddies of the picnic, played with the Builders and on account of her timely hitting and base running scored the first and almost the last run for her hard laboring team.

Wins Horse Shoe Contest.

There were many interesting sports for every age. One of the real features was the horse shoe pitching of Miss Harriet Gwinn of New Brighton. This little lady made even the best look to their laurels when it came to pitching the "Luckies." Regulation shoes and pitching distances made no difference to this shoe shooter.

A boxing contest between W. Whistler and G. Hannah of Beaver Falls was an interesting feature. Both boys showed much training and enlightened the Builder Supply men in the high art of self defense which will come in handy when they return home to practice their respective businesses.

This bout was refereed by C. H. Blank of Ellwood City. Mr. Blank should watch his whereabouts or Tex Rickard will be after him to take care of the Dempsey-Tunney Chicago affair.

Everyone at the picnic thought that walking on the face of the deep was a feature solely belonging to the time of years and years ago but all were astounded when they looked out across the waves of Lakewood and saw Dallas Ballain and Aimil Matz stepping gently over the waves. These two men calmly overturned their canoe and then proceeded to electrify their friends by their power over the waves. All in all each young man had to be content with wearing a thoroughly soaked suit of clothes the remaining hours of the day.

At 6:30 a very tasty meal was prepared and by the looks of the tables all the goodies of the entire state were heaped upon them. After enjoying the very active hours of the afternoon everyone was hungry and anxious to eat and before very many moments passed the heaped table was soon dwindled down to mere lunches.

The committee furnished free ice cream pop lemonade and coffee for all present with caps, pencils and note books as tokens to be taken home as remembrances of the enjoyable picnic event.

This surely was a specially planned event for the kiddies as each one present was given a grab bag filled to overflowing wih zig-zag, balloons, suckers, vizors, whistles, candy, ticklers, novelty dressed favors and a rubber doll.

Another feature of the delightful picnic was the presence of W. N. Campbell of New Wilmington, president of the Western Pennsylvania Builders Supply association.

Rearic Drum Corps Furnished Music Old Timer's Day

The Rearic Drum Corps with William Rearic as leader furnished lively music for the Old Timers at the park Wednesday afternoon.

The drum corps was composed of five pieces. At one time it was one of the lively organizations. It still must be quite lively for Mr. Rearic in reporting to the News says that a young lady at the park said that "Bill" looked as though he was not more than 25 years old. Ever since he received this compliment "Bill" has been stepping around like a two-year-old.

THREE APPEALS FOR DIVORCES

Three divorces were asked today in actions filed with Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell.

Thomas Perry asks a divorce from his wife Lucille Perry on the grounds of adultery. The couple was married February 14, 1923, and lived together until August 6, 1927.

Jay A. McNulty asks a divorce from his wife, Ada E. McNulty, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married September 2, 1924.

Queen's Praise Is "Bunk" To Knight

Youth Cannot See Any Valor He Gave Princess

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 19—Still knight-errand though now in mufti, Newland Depauw Knight, graduated in June from Culver Military academy, tonight was attempting to continue quietly making enough money to enter college this fall, without the trumpetings of enthusiastic friends here.

For Knight is the young chap cited informally by Queen Marie of Roumania as having given Princess Ileana her greatest thrill on her recent tour of America.

As the hour of their departure from Chicago for Indianapolis neared, Prince Nicholas had wagered Ileana he could drive an auto along unfamiliar roads to meet the queen in Indianapolis and that his sister couldn't. Ileana took him up, and despite a February snow storm, the adventure began.

With Ileana were Knight and Col. Calvin P. Chambers, also of Culver, acting as special escort, and Miss Marr, Ileana's tutor.

Accident Disturbs Her

At Grant Park, Ill., Ileana rammed a truck.

The accident upset her.

At Rossville, Ill., they stopped at a drug store for a soda. Ileana sat down at a table, and then fainted.

"I did the only thing anyone could do," said modest Knight this evening. "A doctor's office was above and Col. Chambers and I carried the princess upstairs.

"The doctor was out, so Miss Marr—I'm sure it was Miss Marr—removed her shoes and stockings and I massaged her feet and ankles. Was that chivalry?

"Nothing romantic ever came of it, except that three weeks later I received a picture of the princess and a typewritten letter signed by her thanking me for my attentions. I did not reply to the letter and I don't think I have had any romantic notions about the incident."

As Queen Marie told the story to an American correspondent in Roumania yesterday, Knight was the hero of the whole affair, and he had presence of mind enough to remove her shoes and hose.

"Ileana was quite overcome by the tender care, manliness and chivalry shown by this young student," she said. It was the most interesting and dramatic happening of our entire stay in America."

Mississippi Flag Has St. Andrew's Cross

The flag of Louisiana is a solid blue field with the coat of arms of the State, a pelican feeding its young, the ribbon beneath, in white, containing in blue the motto of the State, "Union, Justice, Confidence." The field of the flag of Indiana is blue and on it is centred a flaming torch of gold, with nineteen stars. Thirteen stars are circled around the torch, representing the original thirteen states. Inside this circle is a half circle of five states admitted to the Union prior to Indiana.

Mississippi has a flag of blue, white and red field, with a red canton reaching down to the red stripe of the field. A St. Andrew's cross, with thirteen stars, is imposed on the canton. The flag of Illinois is black on a white background, containing the seal of the state. In the centre is an American eagle perched on an American shield. Back of the shield is an olive branch. In its beak the eagle hold a scroll containing the motto, "State Soverignty—National Union."

Alabama's flag is a crimson cross of St. Andrew on a field of white, the bars forming the cross not less than six inches broad. The flag of Maine consists of a field of blue, in the centre of which is the coat of arms of the commonwealth. Missouri's flag is rectangular in shape, the field consisting of one red, one white and one blue horizontal stripe of equal width. In the blue band there are set at equal distances twenty-four five-pointed stars. Within the circle on a ground of white is the coat of arms of the state. The left half of the shield shows the American eagle. The lower dexter quarter is red, with a grizzly bear. It is supported by two grizzly bears.—Washington Star

ROTARIANS VISIT CAMP

Fifty To Sixty New Castle Folks Inspect Camp Near Ellwood

Members of the New Castle Rotary club, and their wives, numbering fifty to sixty in all, went to the Dick Victor camp, near Ellwood City, last night, and were guests of the evening.

Featuring the occasion was a chicken dinner, and inspection of the camp. There are about 150 boys at the camp, at the present time, and the Rotarians were much impressed with the institution.

Mr. Victor and Andy Kerr, coach at W. & J., and one of the staff at the camp, conducted the New Castle party about the camp.

Johnny Kraft, of New Castle, is one of the important members of the staff at the Victor camp.

Slayers Wail As They Are Told Of Court Decision

Sacco-Vanzetti Utter Wild Cries When Told Of Judicial Decision Today

(International News Service)

STATE'S PRISON, Boston, Aug. 19.—Both Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti uttered wild cries of despair today when told that the Massachusetts courts had given a final decision against them.

"Mobilize a million men," shrieked Vanzetti.

"Dante, bring my little giant to me," yelled Sacco, shouting for his 14-year-old son.

The cries re-echoed through the corridors behind the great stone and granite walls as Assistant Defense Attorney, Wm. A. Musmanno, of Pittsburgh, broke the news of the adverse decision by the full bench of the State Supreme court.

Start Hunt For Bridge Bombers

Bridge Over Chartiers Creek At Mayview, Pa., Near Pittsburgh Damaged By Bomb

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Pennsylvania railroad police and county detectives were conducting a probe following the explosion of a can of nitroglycerine on the bridge along the Chartiers branch of the railroad today, near Mayview, Pa., 15 miles from here.

Although the full force of the blast was heard for many miles, little damage was done. Passenger trains hauling commuters from Washington and Canonsburg, Pa., were forced to decrease their speed as they passed the damaged bridge. Pennsylvania railroad officials said the blast had spread the rails but not enough to cause suspension of service.

Fragments of a can which detectives believe contained the explosive liquid were found near the scene. Several hundred inmates of the Pittsburgh city home for the insane were panic-stricken when the sound of the blast reverberated through the walls of the institution, not more than 100 yards away. Attendants worked several hours before the patients could be assured that the buildings in which they were housed were undamaged.

VIADUCT PLANS GIVEN APPROVAL

County Commissioners Approve Wampum Bridge Details

Detail plans of the Wampum-Chewton viaduct have been approved by the county commissioners, and copies of the plans have been submitted to all of the interested parties.

Application has been made to the state water and power board and to the state art commission.

At present, application is being made to the federal war department and it is believed that this will require a public hearing.

After the state commission has approved the plans, declares C. H. Milholland, civil engineer, the project will then come before the Public Service Commission for final approval, after which the bridge will be let by contract.

No delay is anticipated in the proceedings and work will begin as soon as possible, says Mr. Milholland.

Pedlar's Mother Becomes Anxious

Mother Of Missing Pacific Coast Air Racer Extremely Nervous.

LAUDS ABILITY OF SON-FLIER

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 19.—Extreme nervousness coupled with an emphatic state of anxiety ran rampant today in the home of Mrs. Jennie Joy, where her sister-in-law, Mrs. Pedlar Joy, mother of "Auggie" Pedlar, one of the missing Dole California-Hawaii flight aviators, is visiting.

Pedlar, who is known for his prowess as a capable aviator, has been missing in his plane somewhere over the Pacific for more than 40 hours. Mrs. Joy knows that her son could not have remained in the air more than 28 hours due to the limited capacity of the gasoline tanks of his plane.

Although press associations and newspapers have been keeping Mrs. Joy informed of the progress of the $35,000 prize Hawaiian flight since Wednesday, the day of the take-off, she has received no word concerning her aviator son, who was one of the contestants.

Mrs. Joy today consoled herself with the fact that "Auggie" is a skilled aviator and if he is down somewhere in the Pacific, his nautical and flying knowledge will be beneficial to him. No one but immediate friends of the family are allowed to see Mrs. Joy, due to her nervous condition.

According to Mr. Pyle there are still a few industries and business that have not sent in the questionnaire and he hopes that every one of these questionnaires will be returned so as to make the data 100% complete, in order that the Chamber of Commerce can use the basic information gathered through the survey in the special advertising program that is now being prepared for the "Iron Age" and the "Metal Age". State Motor Law Queries

Each day a great many Pennsylvania motorists write to Pennsylvania Motor Federation at Harrisburg for information concerning the motor vehicle laws, regulations of the State Highway Department and roads in Pennsylvania. Many of these queries are of general nature. In the belief that the questions and their answers will solve problems of other motorists, the Motor Federation from day to day will publish questions and answers in Pennsylvania newspapers. The first will be found below.

NEW MOTOR CODE

Q. When does the new motor code take effect? Does it make many changes in the present motor laws?

A. The new motor vehicle code becomes effective January 1, 1928. A great many changes are made in motor vehicle regulations. From time to time during the next four months Pennsylvania newspapers will advise their readers as to these changes.

COUNCIL HEARS PROTEST AGAINST SUBURBAN PLOT

Members of city council Friday instructed City Solicitor R. M. White to take whatever feasible legal steps he believes necessary against the Weingartner Realty company against which property-owners in Orlando street, near Wilmington road, registered complaint during today's session.

According to councilmen, the city planning commission has refused to approve the company's plan in the Edgewood avenue section, west of the New Wilmington highway. According to city officials the commission has jurisdiction over the district though it is outside the city limits.

The objection of the commission and five property-owners, represented today by Mrs. Walter Cox and Mrs. Fred Green, is that the rear of the Morwyn plan abuts on the front of the complainants' property, converting it into an "alley-like" affair, they said. They said that this will depreciate their property.

"I see where the city is going to have a case in court," said Solicitor Robert M. White, who has been ordered to uphold the city planning commission in its refusal to approve the plan. Today the delegation said that the company is proceeding with the sale of lots and that houses are being erected, though not in front of the Green and Cox homes but they anticipate such a move in the future.

MAKE PLANS TO HOUSE CONVENTION DELEGATES

New Castle Must Provide For 3000 Delegates To S. S. Convention.

Plan For Taking Care Of Visiting Army Is Presented.

While all the churches have not received entertainment cards for delegates for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association Convention which is to be held in New Castle October 12, 13, 14, by next Sabbath they will be in practically every church with a certain quoto to be reached in every instance.

So far the churches where the cards have been presented are responding in an encouraging manner and seem to welcome the opportunity to entertain the picked Sabbath School leaders which will be presented from every county in the state.

The plan of the entertainment of delegates is as follows:

In the churches will be placed cards that call for the following information: Name and address of those wishing to entertain delegates, telephone number, church affiliation, and the number of delegates they wish to entertain and whether they prefer men or women or are willing to entertain either.

These cards will be on file at the Cathedral and when delegates register they will be asked whether or not they wish entertainment. If they do, they will be assigned to a home and a $1.25 for each night's lodging and breakfast will be collected. When the delegate leaves the a slip stating the amount of entertainment furnished will be left in the home.

After the Convention this slip can be cashed just the same as a check, at a designated place. Should the entertaining home wish to donate this entertainment, the slip need not be cashed and the money would go to help promote organized Sabbath School work. However, entertaining homes may feel free to collect the amount stated on the slip, as the money has been collected for that purpose.

New Castle entertained a State Sabbath School Association convention in 1911, but of course at that time the city did not have its present facilities and the number of delegates was not over one-third that the coming convention will accommodate. However, those attending State Conventions since that time, hear delegates speak of the hearty hospitality that was accorded them in New Castle. It is the purpose of the large and active Convention Committee making arrangements for this year's gathering of Sabbath School leaders, that the delegates leaving after the Convention will feel free in stating that New Castle had the biggest and best Convention ever held in the state and that the good Christian people of New Castle cannot be equalled in the matter of hospitality and kindness of heart. The Scottish Rite Cathedral, The Castleton, the home city of the State President, Percy L. Craig, and an unusual hospitable citizenry—these are a few of the outstanding features New Castle will offer the Convention in October.

It's a two-to-one bet that Vesuvius will never dare to erupt without getting permission from Mussolini.

Chicago To Build Big Playground in Lake For Children

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Lake Michigan, off Lincoln Park here, is to be filled in for a 400-acre playground to include an athletic field, golf course, archery range and bathing pavilion, it was announced by the Lincoln Park Commissioners, governing body of that section of the lake front.

Expenditure of an immediate $2,000,000 was authorized for the project.

Plans have been completed for a new outer drive to extend from the far southern sections of Chicago to northern points by means of a wide drive to be constructed upon filled-in areas of the lake.

A few years ago, bordering the Illinois Central Railroad tracks, lake waves dashed against breakwaters a few feet from the runway, lashing spray through opened windows. Now the lake has been theoretically moved a distance approaching close to a mile in sections.

Off the railroad terminus, a scant mile from Chicago's loop, is to be built an airplane landing field on an island to be made in the lake.

Fifteen dredging vessels and sand transferring ships are now engaged in the work.

The best way to solve our traffic problem would be to change the traffic lights at the corner of Washington and Jefferson streets. As they are now, the lights only help to tie the traffic up. But don't misunderstand me: I believe that lights are a very good thing at any intersection. It is not the lights, but the way that they are arranged, that I do not like. Parked cars stand very little chance of getting out of the Diamond when traffic is heavy.

But in one of the worst places in town, there are no traffic lights. And that is the intersection of Croton avenue and Washington streets. Without a light, or a competent traffic officer, this, perhaps, is the most dangerous place in town.

Yes, to my mind, the future of New Castle looks very rosy. We have railroads, water and location, but what we need is more cooperation from all of the people. Whether a man has $500 or $1,000,000 invested in property about the town, each of them should be equally interested in the future of New Castle.

The main thing, I believe, is that cooperation be between the business men, the tradesmen, and the bankers is lacking. And that is what we need. I know that the tradesmen, like the plumbers and the electricians, feel that they are left out of it most of the time because they do business on a smaller scale. What the town needs is for all of the people to get behind things and boost. I am sure that we have a very capable leader in David S. Pyle.

Boy Loses Fingers By Explosion Of Dynamite Cap

MERCER, Aug. 19.—John Reither, aged 13, of Stoneboro will go through life with a mutilated left hand as the result of the accidental explosion of a dynamite cap with which he was playing last evening.

The first two fingers on the left hand of the boy were blown off and the hand badly injured. He was rushed at once to the Mercer hospital where surgical treatment was given.

The boy is the son of William Reither of Stoneboro. He was playing alone at the time and is believed to have hit the cap with a heavy instrument not knowing its explosive qualities. His case is being closely watched at the hospital.

Every bed at the Mercer hospital is filled is the report of today from that institution with a demand for further admittances.

The hospital musters 32 beds. The number can be increased to 60 by revamping the recently vacated nurses' quarters which takes place at once.

FOOTBALL CAMP TO OPEN AUGUST 29

Name Gridders For Training Period

Select 35 Candidates To Train At Muddy Creek Falls.

Equipment Will Soon Be Issued To Football Men.

Thirty-five young huskies, candidates for the 1927 New Castle high football team, will entrain for Muddy Creek Falls, bag and baggage, bright and early, on Monday morning, August 29. Announcement of the date for the opening of the camp was made at a meeting held last night.

The initial meeting of the year was held at the senior high building on Thursday night, with about 50 young candidates present. After a careful survey of the group, Coach Bridenbaugh selected thirty-five candidates to make the training trip. It is said that several others will be selected at a later date.

Before the gridders are ready to go to camp, it is likely that about 40 will comprise the party. Several of the candidates are out of town and were unable to be present.

It was a fine group of tanned youngsters that greeted Coach Bridenbaugh at the meeting last night. The boys looked in the pink of health and ready for the gruelling season.

Camp Site Ready.

Faculty Manager Gardner said that about everything is ready for the opening of camp. Gardner and his staff of assistants have been at the camp site for the past several days, and have been busily engaged in getting things ready to entertain the gridders.

Coach Bridenbaugh in a short talk to the boys, let it be known that this camp proposition is no "pink tea" affair, and that they would have to show some real work.

The camp will be operated for a period of one-week. Visitors are cordially invited to attend the various sessions, and to watch the gridders in their workouts. Two hard workouts each day, is on the program said Bridenbaugh. An early morning practice and another strenuous rehearsal in the afternoon.

Coach Bridenbaugh will be assisted at camp this year by Coaches William "Bill" Klee, and George "Gig" Thomas. Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner and Student Manager Louis Brown will handle the business end of the training period.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Tonight is the night that George Perotta, middleweight, will attempt to beat Bert Hillier of Toronto. We haven't seen Perotta in months and information regarding the former local idol is coming from boys who have visited him at Erie.

Perotta has been away from the game for a long time and it is our opinion he will have to travel some to reach the position he once held. When he decided to take the rock path he was beginning to attract the notice of promoters in large cities.

Misfortune has cast her dark optics upon New Castle high and Westminster football teams, Red McIntosh and Joe Wagner being lost to both elevens. Phil Bridenbaugh, it is reported, expected Red to be in the backfield. He is in a hospital following an operation.

Joe Wagner is lost to Westminster according to our New Wilmington correspondent. Hopes for a brilliant Blue and White eleven are not bright, he writes. However, the season has not yet started. There is always a silver lining behind a dark cloud.

A few days ago we wrote that the police department is an aggregation of "pikers". We said they had not paid their obligation—a fish dinner to the Leslie House team which defeated the police in baseball. "Ducky" Samuels denies this.

He says he has 27 pounds of fish on "ice". He says when he catches enough "the police will pay the debt". He claims he is the only man in the department who is trying to catch sufficient fish to feed the Leslie team.

Several days ago "Cricket" Wysner captured a large carp. He displayed it at the police station. Samuels and the rest of them tried to buy the fish (we use the word 'buy') so that it could be added to the bass on "ice".

Wysner refused to "fall" and the police did not get the fish. The boys who played against the police declare nothing was said about "cold storage" fish. We believe the Leslie would be satisfied with a chicken dinner if the police cannot get enough fish.

According to persons who like to see dog races, the greyhounds are racing before large crowds every night at Southern Park, Youngstown. It is seldom that a night passes that a crowd of at least 100 New Castle fans fail to attend.

BLUE AND WHITE TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY COLLEGIANS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 19.—Swinginng into action again this Saturday the netmen of the New Wilmington tennis club will meet a picked New Castle team on the local courts.

Numbered among the New Castle racquet-wielders are Johnson, a Dartmouth star; McFate a former Westminster net captain; the Lamoree brothers and Sowersby.

With such a strong lineup the New Castle lads are favored to win but the dopesters are not figuring for the first time this season the New Wilmington five will have an un-crippled team.

The local net team will be composed of John Cummings, Osie Crowe, Art Kirkbride, Bob Cummings and John Crowe all of whom are former Westminster stars.

Old Time Fighter Is Here On Visit

Cannon will be remembered as boxing in the semi-windup of the famous Gans-McGovern fight twenty seven years ago. And Cannon was the man who discovered Stanley Ketchel and took him to Tonepa and Goldfield and Garfield at the time of the Gans-Nelson fight, staged in 1906.

And that is how Eddie marks time, by the years in which the famous fights took place. In his pocket he carries a little book, filled with clippings, which tell all about him when he was in his prime.

At that, though, he is not so old. His eyes are still clear, and he is not punch drunk, like so many of the old Knights of the Leather Mitt. In fact, though he was a fighter, and now is fifty years old, no one would ever guess it.

When asked about the probable outcome of the Dempsey-Tunney scrap to be staged in Chicago next month, Eddie was loath to speak. But finally he said: "Well, Tunney can outpoint John Dempsey, but he will have to be very careful. All the time he will have to watch himself, as Dempsey's infighting has no equal. But there should be no doubt as to the outcome of the fight, if only Gene will remember that he cannot stand up and slug with the Manassa Mauler."

PIRATES HOME ON SEPTEMBER 1

Chicago Cubs To Be Opponents On Return To Forbes Field

When the Pittsburgh Pirates return to Forbes Field, September 1, for the last long home stay of the season, they face a pretty stiff assignment for the first week or so, opening with a single game with the Chicago Cubs on that date, and followed by two games with the St. Louis Cardinals on September 2 and 3, the latter being a Saturday contest. The Cubs have been the big surprise of the baseball world this season and this final home game with the Windy City boys should be about as sizzling an affair as ever played on Forbes Field.

Jack Hendrick's Cincinnati Reds will be the Pirates' opponents in morning and afternoon games on Labor Day, Sept. 5. The Reds seem to have found themselves at last and are playing the good ball of which they are capable; they should furnish stellar amusement for the holiday fans. The Redlegs remain at Forbes Field for single games Sept. 6 and 7 also.

After an open date on Sept. 8, the final series with the eastern clubs opens, the Philadelphia pastimers being the first of the seaboard outfits to appear, playing Sept. 9, 10, and 12, the tenth being a Saturday date. Then come the Boston Braves for four games on Sept. 13, 14, 15 and 16. The Braves have proven tartars for the Pirates this season and their games at Forbes Field have proven to be the best exhibition of the national pastime put up by any club.

The Brooklyn Robins open their final series with a double-header Saturday, Sept. 17, and remain for single games Sept. 19, 20 and 21. The New York Giants close the Pirates' home season, opening with a double-header Thursday, Sept. 22 and lingering for single games Sept. 23 and 24.

Football Loops Combine Forces

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—There will be no American Football League this Fall and the local professional team captained by Red Grange will join the National Football League, according to an announcement by C. C. Pyle, backer of the American League. As a result of the settlement of the feud between the two organizations, there will be twelve teams in the new league.

Selection Of Davis Cup Team Started

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

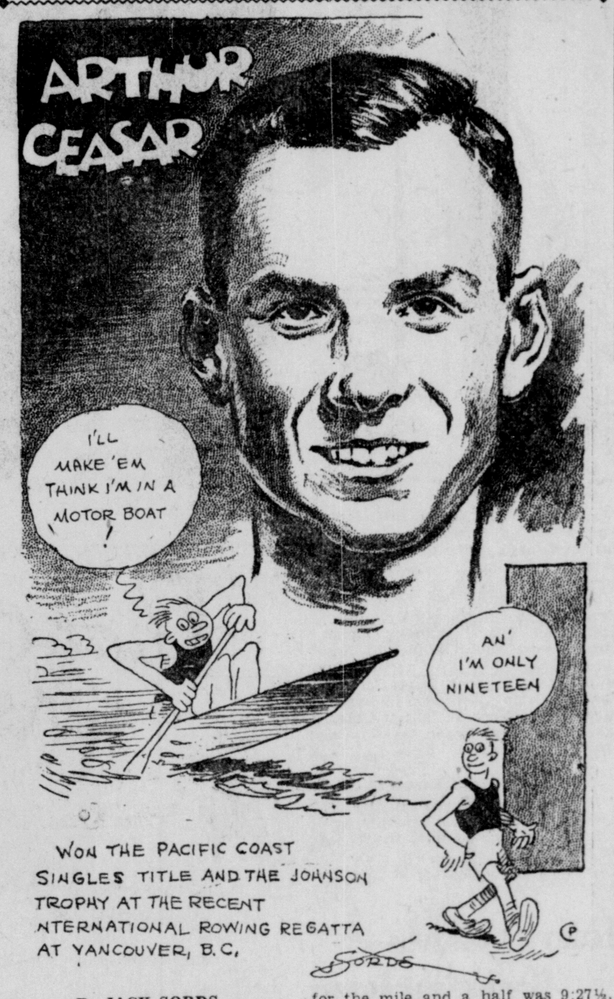
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Above and beyond fallacy and mere supposition stood the fact today that only two considerations remained 100 per cent certain about the American Davis Cup team, as named yesterday, and these were that Bill Tilden will play No. 1 in the singles and that he will team with Francis T. Hunter in the doubles match. They say Billy Johnston is an absolute walk in for the No. 2 singles spot; in fact, that eventuality seemingly has been taken for granted by everyone with the possible exception of the Davis Cup selection committee.

The writer happens to know that the committee right this moment is wavering in its choice between Johnston and R. Norris Williams and will take nothing for granted, except its own invincibility, until such time as it sees what it may see. In other words it is possible that Johnston will play the key-position of the situation and almost possible that he will do nothing whatsoever and keep right at it until the matches are over.

Everything depends on how Johnston plays when he comes east for the final workouts leading up to the challenge round. If he looks anything like the Johnston of old, he can't be kept off the team with a ball and chain. If he doesn't and Williams can show the committee anything beyond a polite society hand shake, then Williams will get the nod without the slightest compunction

SORDS POINTS

This Ceasar Came, Rowed, Conquered



By JACK SORDS.

Sport fans usually get a kick out of surprises, so 19-year-old Arthur Ceasar treated rowing enthusiasts to a large-sized boot when he won the Pacific coast singles championship and the Johnson trophy of the international rowing regatta.

Although before the race he showed excellent form and great things were expected of him in the future it was generally agreed that he was not quite ready to cop off one of the choice prizes of the rowing game. But Ceasar fooled 'em all.

Ceasar won his first race when only 16. It was an eighth of a mile event and against far more experienced rowers than himself. He asked a friend how ta plan his race and was told to practice starts. To get out in front of the field from the beginning.

Ceasar did not forget the advice when the big test came. He splashed to a quick start in the championship regatta and once out in front he could not be overtaken. His time for the mile and a half was 9:27½, which is good considering the small-sized hurricane he bucked all the way.

Frank Adams, former Pacific coast title holder, was attending the Canadian Henley and U. S. national championships and was unable to defend his title. Now a race between Ceasar and Adams is being agitated. Ceasar is an even six feet in height and weighs 158 pounds.

Westminster To Open Grid Camp

Football Candidates To Start Training September First.

JOE WAGNER LOST TO WESTMINSTER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 19.—Again the call for the fall training football camp sounds as "Andy" McDonald, Westminster's graduate manager of athletics announces that this year's training camp will open September 1 here.

It was thought that the camp may have been held at East Brook this year but arrangements for hot water and other necessities could not be made. Consequently the training table is to be as usual at the local college Inn.

With the news of the opening of the football camp comes the surmise as to what kind of a team will be put on the field this year by the Blue and White. McDonald so far has kept an ominous silence in regards to the new material, the lettermen, and the hopes of the coaches for this year's combine. But with hard luck starting already with the loss of Joe Wagner, a star of last season, high hopes are not entertained by the Westminster dopesters.

STARS TO PLAY CLIFTON FLATS

The Radiator Stars will play the Clifton Flats team at the Radiator field at five o'clock tonight.

The Clifton Flats team is one of the best in this section of the state, and they hope to defeat the Stars. The Stars, late of the Twilight League, are hopeful of annexing a victory over this strong outfit.

GAMES CALLED OFF

All games in the National League were postponed on account of rain Thursday. Boston and Detroit in the American League also were called off account of rain.

New Castle And Agathons Tie 0-0

Rain And Darkness Breaks Up Pitchers Duel At Centennial Field

Rain and darkness put a halt to a pitchers battle at Centennial Field last night, between Hart and Jamieson. New Castle and Massillon drew up in a 0-0 deadlock. The game was stopped in the seventh inning by the umpire.

"Red" Hart, veteran Massillon heaver, opposed Jamieson on the knoll and held the locals to but a few hits. Jamieson was in rare form and limited the visitors to one hit in the seven frames.

New Castle's inability to hit when hits meant runs, cost them the decision. The Agathons had very few chances to score. The game will likely be played over at a later date.

Women Golfers Win Thursday

Field Club Team Defeats Women Representing The Wanango Club.

SECOND VICTORY OVER SAME TEAM

New Castle Field club now boasts a winning aggregation of women golfers as well as one of the men and the ladies are adding to the reputation and laurels of the local club in no uncertain manner.

In a well played contest with the women's team of the Wanango Country Club, which is made up from residents of Oil City and Franklin, the New Castle women on Thursday afternoon defeated the visiting ladies by the score of 20½ to 15½. This is the second victory of the season for the local ladies over the ladies of the Wanango club, the local team having won on the occasion of their visit to the Wanango club some five or six weeks ago by a margin of three points.

Some excellent golf was displayed by the contending ladies in the contest Thursday afternoon, with the local ladies having the better of the argument. The visitors put up a spirited contest but were no match for the team here.

Yankees Favored In Series Games

Odds Favor Yankees To Win American League Flag And Also World's Series.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE IS CLOSE

By LES CONKLIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK Aug. 19.—With the Yankees 15 games in the lead, the Washington Senators awoke from their pennant dreams today and turned to ward off a flank attack by the onrushing Detroit Tigers. The Bengals have won seven straight and trail the Nats by only 2½ games.

Rain prevented he Red Sox from being fed to the Tigers yesterday, but the Senators lost to the Browns ir. the 12th, 6 to 5, Walter Johnson was taken out of the box.

The Yankees are 6 to 5 favorites to win both the American league pennat and the world's series according to odds quoted in Wall street. The Cubs are favored to cop the National league flag at 8 to 5. Pittsburgh at a 4 to 1 shot, St. Louis 7 to 1 and New York 10 to 1.

The Yankees won again from the White Sox 5 to 4 in the 12th inning. Wilcey Moore, crack relief pitcher, hung up his second victory in 24 hours.

Cleveland's losing streak and Philadelphia's winning streak were shattered as the Indians trimmed the A's 2 to 1. Joe Shaute did some sweet pitching while Bishop's error cooked Connie Mack's hash.

A lot of "crooical" baseball will be crowded into a few hours this afternoon in the National league as all the pennant contenders, held idle by rain yesterday, will be playing doubleheaders.

Italian All Stars Series Is Ended

T. C. Richards, manager of the Italian All-Stars stated the Colored Stars had determined to not play any more of the five game series and as a result the All-Stars have won two straight games. The third tilt was carded for this evening at Centennial Field. As a result of the Colored Stars decision, the Italian All Stars need not report for a game this evening.

Grid Teams Are Planning Active Program This Fall

Many Feature Grid Battles Carded For Pennsylvania This Year

HARRISBURG, Aug. 19. — With the baseball season going full blast, football fans are already busy with the dope bucket weighing relative merits of the various teams to be seen this fall on Central Pennsylvania gridirons.

Penn State, Bucknell, Dickinson, Susquehanna, Franklin and Marshall and Gettysburg are the Central Pennsylvania collegiate elevens most in the limelight, while their foes this year will include Army, New York University, Pitt, and many other headliners.

Carl Snavely's Bucknell eleven opens its season Sept. 24, with a test game with Susquehanna. Penn State opens with Lebanon Valley at State and American College of Baltimore plays Gettysburg.

"Bo" McMillin's crack Geneva college machine that crushed Harvard last fall, is the second foe for Bucknell at Lewisburg. Dickinson starts with Juniata at Carlisle and Gettysburg goes to Penn State.

October 8 ushers in the Penn State-Bucknell game, one of the biggest events of the season, while Dickinson meets F. and M. at Lancaster.

Western Maryland, enjoying a 13-0 victory last year, hopes to repeat in meeting Dickinson at Carlisle Oct. 15. Bucknell goes to the mat with Villa Nova at Wilkes-Barre, remembering a 7-3 victory last fall, while Penn State has a 3-0 loss to bear in mind in the struggle with Penn at Franklin Field.

State travels to Syracuse Oct 22. Gettysburg meets Bucknell at Lewisburg, while Ursinus and Dickinson play at Collegeville.

Bucknell meets a big time foe Oct. 29 in tackling the Army at West Point, while Penn State meets Lafayette at New Beaver field on this date. Gettysburg and Western Maryland play at Gettysburg.

The Gettysburg-Dickinson game at Harrisburg Nov. 5 is one of the classics, while Bucknell meets Lehigh and State plays George Washington at State on this date. Bucknell and Lehigh play at Bethlehem.

Washington and Jefferson, one of the Western Pennsylvania big three comes to Bucknell Nov. 12 for Alumni Day. The Prexies beat Bucknell 17-2 at Washington last year. On this date Gettysburg plays Mt. St. Mary's and New York University, Chick Meehan's charges, tackle State at State College in one of the featured games of the season.

Bucknell plays Temple at Philadelphia Nov. 19, on Franklin Field, and Bucknell and Dickinson, old rivals, tangle at Lewisburg Nov. 24.

Penn State goes to Pittsburgh to tackle the Panthers on Thanksgiving Day, in a game which annually draws thousands.

Up A Tree — By Feg Murray

"A shot at Von Elm, underneath the bough,
By Jones, of course, a lot of boys, and thou
Beside me at Minneapolis
Oh, Minneapolis were paradise, enow!"

It's Bobby Jones speaking paraphrasing the immortal Omar Khayyam, with the "thou" in this case referring to Calamity Jane, his faithful putter, which stood him in such good stead in winning the British open at St. Andrews. But Minikhada is not St. Andrews, nor was there any Von Elm to worry about at the British open championship. However, Bobby desires his old title back, he longs to wear the crown once more that he won in 1924 and '25. He is a sharpshooter, especially with "Calamity Jane". Will he bag his prey?

Consider the gentleman up the tree, Mr. George Von Elm of Los Angeles, golfer, boxer, insurance broker and 25 years old on his next birthday. Is he going to be hit by Jones or some other mighty hunter, and toppled from his lofty perch? Only Von Elm has beaten Jones in the last three national amateur golf tournaments and only Jones has beaten Von Elm. George nearly went out in the first round last year, sinking a 25-putt on the 17th green to carry Ellsworth Augustus on to the 19th, where he beat him.

Bobby beat George 9 and 8 in 1924 and 8 and 7 in 1925 and qualified with a 143 last year, while Von Elm took 159. But George beat Augustus, McCarthy, Gunn, Dawson AND Jones, and prevented Bobby from winning his third major golf title of the year, as well as winning the amateur crown three years in a row.

Supposing Jones fails to bag Von Elm, will one of those hardy veterans, Chick Evans, Frances Ouimet, Max Marston, Bob Gardner or Jesse Guilford do it? Or how about Watts Gunn, Rudy Knepper, Ducky Corkran, Jimmy Manion, Harrison Johnston, Eddie Held, George Voight or Roland McKenzie? It's open season on champions!

Feg Murray Says—

The state of Rhode Island has never produced a broad-jump champion, it is said, because if one leaped 25 feet or more he'd land either in Connecticut, Massachusetts or the Atlantic ocean!

Dempsey Still Popular, Chicago Fans Disclose

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Jack Dempsey may not be heavyweight champion of the world, but he is certainly the most popular ex-champion that ever trod the streets of Chicago.

Accompanied by his wife, Estelle Taylor, and a number of friends, Dempsey has arrived here to begin training for his title bout with Champion Gene Tunney, scheduled for Soldiers Field September 22.

Although Dempsey passed up his favorite downtown hotel for a more secluded one on the north shore, fans soon got wind of his whereabouts and literally swarmed over the premises hoping to get a sight of their idol.

The allaged "Hollow Shell" will get its first workout today when Jack plays a round of golf with Leo P. Flynn, his manager, Promoter Tex Rickards and several friends.

Dempsey will begin work on Monday in earnest at his Lincoln Fields training camp.

Tunney is expected here next week.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Count the Cincinnati Reds in the National league race. They face too great a handicap, perhaps, to nose out the other teams, but they are going to raise the blooming ned with the hopes of the Cubs, Cards, Pirates and Giants. Put that in your hat.

They have been playing the best ball in the National league in recent weeks. And they still have more strength coming. This in the shape of Pete Donohue, stirling pitcher, who has been rounding into form after a long struggle.

Consider for a moment the fact that the Reds won 23 games and lost only eight in the month of July. That is .742 baseball. Consider that in one stretch of 31 games the pitchers elected to hurl went the entire route in 19.

There are several factors responsible for the change in the playing of the team.

First of all the injury hoodoo seems to have left the club at last. Manager Hendricks struggled for over two months with makeshift outfits, necessitated by loss of his regulars through injury and illness.

Hughie Critz, brilliant second baseman, and counted on as the mainspring of the infield defense, failed to hit his stride until last month. Now he is "on" his game.

The pitching staff, seemingly depressed by their vain efforts earlier in the year, pitched erratic ball. The hitting was just as erratic. Now both departments have improved.

But, giving credit where credit is due, the earnest efforts of Hendricks, in the face of considerable panning and criticism, is responsible for the emerging of the team from last place and its rise to a threatening position in the melee.

Important criminal trials in England seldom last more than a few days, or a week at the longest.

Series Teams Are Practicing Hard

The Ryantown and Lawrence Indies teams, battling for the championship of the Twilight League, are down to strenuous practice each day for the remaining series games.

The third game of the series will be played at Centennial Field on Tuesday night, August 23. The series stands deadlocked at one apiece. The third game will be hard fought is the indication.

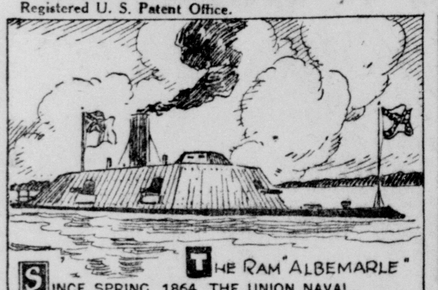
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Cushing Sinks the "Albemarle".

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



THE RAM "ALBEMARLE"

SINCE SPRING, 1864, THE UNION NAVAL FORCES, OPERATING ON THE SOUNDS OF NORTH CAROLINA, HAD BEEN TROUBLED BY A POWERFUL CONFEDERATE IRON-CLAD RAM, THE "ALBEMARLE". IN APRIL, THE RAM HAD FIRST MADE HER APPEARANCE, RECAPTURING THE TOWN OF PLYMOUTH (N. C.), BEATING OFF THE UNION FLEET, AND SINKING THE "SOUTHFIELD" ON MAY 7TH. THE "ALBEMARLE" HAD STEAMED OUT INTO THE SOUND AND FOUGHT SEVEN UNION GUNBOATS, WITH GREAT DAMAGE TO THEM AND LITTLE TO HERSELF.

LIEUT. W. B. CUSHING, OF THE UNION FLEET, PROPOSED A DARING PLAN TO DESTROY THE ENEMY "IRONCLAD" HIS SCHEME WAS TO MAKE A DASH BY NIGHT UP THE RIVER IN A LAUNCH. ARMED WITH A TORPEDO, AND BLOW UP THE "ALBEMARLE". CUSHING'S PLAN WAS APPROVED IN WASHINGTON, AND HE WAS SENT TO NEW YORK, WHERE HE WAS PROVIDED WITH A STOUT PICKET-BOAT AND A SPECIAL TORPEDO. THEN HE RETURNED TO NORTH CAROLINA WATERS.

ON THE NIGHT OF OCT. 27, 1864, CUSHING SLIPPED UP THE ROANOKE RIVER, UNOBSERVED IN THE DARKNESS, PASSED THE CONFEDERATE PICKETS, AND STEALTHILY APPROACHED THE RAM. WHEN HE REACHED THE LOG-BOOM THAT PROTECTED THE "ALBEMARLE", HE WAS DISCOVERED BY THE SENTRIES, BUT RAN THE LAUNCH OVER THE OBSTRUCTION, THROUGH A HAIL OF BULLETS, AND SUCCESSFULLY EXPLODED THE TORPEDO.

THE EXPLOSION TORE A GREAT HOLE IN THE BOTTOM OF THE "ALBEMARLE", AND SHE SANK IN A FEW MINUTES. OF THE BRAVE LITTLE BAND OF UNION SAILORS, CUSHING ALONE MADE HIS ESCAPE, AND CARRIED THE NEWS TO THE FLEET. CUSHING'S GREAT ACHIEVEMENT CLEARED THE WAY FOR THE ADVANCE OF THE FEDERAL NAVAL FORCES UP THE RIVER, AND SOON PLYMOUTH AND THE WHOLE DISTRICT FELL INTO THEIR HANDS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The motor stocks and the specialties resumed their vigorous forward movement at the beginning of trading today. Aggressive buying also returned to the steel stocks and a few of the "dividend rails", all of which were pushed along to slightly higher price levels.

A decline of $1,360,000 in weekly volume of brokerage loans suggested the extent of the liquidation of the weakly held stocks in the week of August 12, but there has been sufficient of speculative buying since that time to re-employ the funds previously tied up in speculative activities. Bullish pools in a number of the cheap specialties, like Davison Chemical, International Combustion, Congoleum and Erie Steam Shovel, refused to let down the bars, rushing prices of their favorites up a point or two in an effort to "run in the shorts".

The new $25 par of General Motors appeared on the big board for the first time, and promptly followed the example of the old stock by advancing a point to 114 in the first half hour.

Order Of Tin Hats For British Soldiers

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 19.—"The Memorable Order of Tin Hats", is the name of a new order of ex-service-men which has achieved remarkable success in South Africa.

Thousands of men are already wearing the symbol of the club, a miniature "tin hat," although the order has only recently been founded.

Members of the organization are called "moths," and their principal object is to keep alive the comradeship of wartime. When twenty or more "moths" are gathered in one locality they form a "shell-hole." This in reality is a lodge.

The country is divided into districts, each district being under the supervision of a "dug-out." The craze among the ex-soldiers who fought in the World War to join this order is spreading like wildfire, and new "moths" are being enlisted by the dozens.

One of the advantages of "The Memorable Order of Tin Hats," is that at the entertainments each "moth" is given a "rum ration."

Bradford County Prisoner Escapes

(International News Service)

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 19.—Herbert Weiser, who is a prisoner of the Western penitentiary in Pittsburgh and who was recently brought to the county jail at Smethport to identify Fred Broughham, his companion in a holdup in Bradford, escaped from the county jail in Smethport Tuesday evening by climbing through the chimney to the roof, it was revealed here today.

An accomplice with a car awaited him it is believed.

Weiser rolled blankets in his bed and deceived the turnkey. The escape was discovered yesterday morning and kept secret until today after an alarm was sent out.

Weiser was to be kept at the county jail here until the October term of criminal court. To act as witness in the Brougham trial. He was then to be taken back to the Western penitentiary to resume serving his sentence.

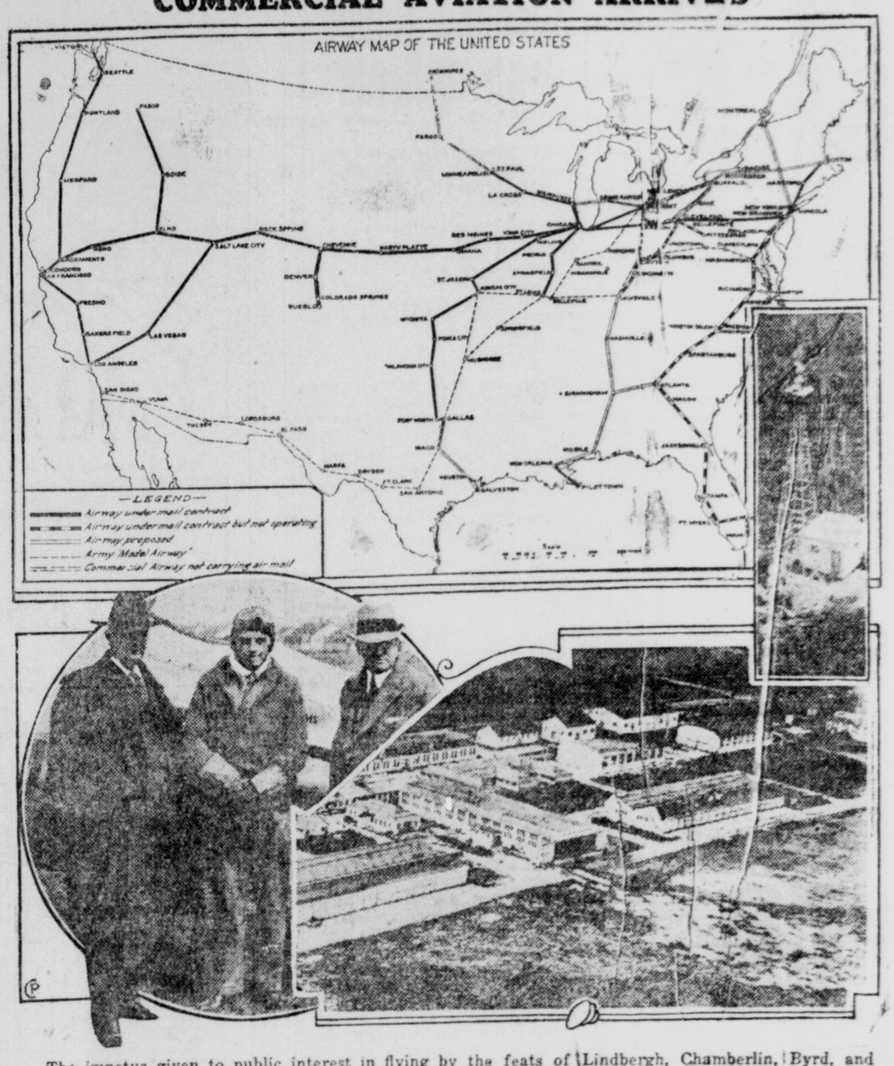
COMMERCIAL AVIATION ARRIVES



The impetus given to public interest in flying by the feats of Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd, and the transpacific flyers has made the United States "air-minded," they flying men say. Smokers Academy Urged In France

Would Build Academy Where One Could Go And Enjoy Smoke If So Inclined.

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Aug. 19.—As a pleasant little thought for summer, Charles Clerc, a Frenchman, suggests the formation of an Academy of Smokers. He points out that humorists, sportsmen, dancers and writers all have their own academies, and why not smokers, who are certainly much and more numerous and have a similar elite.

Another Frenchman in favor of the idea says that this academy would necessarily be an academy of philosophers which is very much desired in these strenuous days. He thinks that the artistic side of smoking should be emphasized and would be with an academy of this sort.

Rene Doumic says he will join if there is any prospect of getting better cigars for one's money.

Far from falling out of favour since the high rise in the prices of tobacco some time ago, smoking is on the increase in France, according to figures covering the fist six months of this year. During this period the revenue from tobacco sales amounted to 1,740,000,000 francs, an increase of 445,000,000 francs over the corresponding period last year. June of this year was the most flourishing month for smokers.

The tobacco monopoly announces that two new brands of very light cigars will shortly be on sale in ornamental packets of fifty cents and a dollar each. Magna cigars at fifteen cents and Manadarins at twenty will also be on sale soon.

Six hundred and twenty-five persons committed suicide in France last year. The majority of them, 197, used fire-arms to do it; the next largest number 91, drowned themselves in some stream. Fifty-seven threw themselves form some high monument and fifty more were asphyxiated by gas. Only twenty-one took poison.

Bachelors commit suicide more often than married men, according to a recent study of 307 cases made by the French physician, Dr. Serin. He also finds that suicide is adopted as way out of life's problems more frequently by men than women and more often by elder ones than the mere adult.

Dr. Serin divides the causes of suicide into five classes; Insanity, alcoholism, severe grief, incurable diseases and poverty.

While hundreds of gay Parisiens were boarding the famous "Blue Train" to take them to Deauville, five hundred sick pilgrims took places in the "White Train" leaving for Lourdes, firm in the faith that in the celebrated Grotto of the Virgin miraculous cures will take place for the lame, the halt and the blind. Nothing is more impressive than the departure of this White Train every summer at this season. Many of the pilgrims afflicted with diseases that have warped and ravaged their bodies, but have failed to weaken the supreme hope that a miracle will be accomplished in the famous waters of the Grotto. This faith has cured many of them.

A young Rumanian girl Mademoiselle Stephania Maracineamu, has recently tried to demonstrate before the French Academy of Sciences that radioactivity is not a spontaneous property in itself, but that the action of the sun can modify it and even transmit it to certain bodies which do not possess this property.

The young Doctoress of Sciences interested the old scholars very much, 'tis said—without completely convincing them.

The Lindbergh "frock" is the newest creation of a fashionable French dressmaker on the Champs Elysees. It comes in a charming shade of gray crepe de chine. A pearl tint with a touch of rose. The bodice is formed of very small transversal pleats and the skirt of larger ones of the same type. A plain belt divides the two. When the wearer moves or there is a slight breeze the effect is delightful.

N. Y.-To-Paris Afoot Is Plan Of Ex-Doughboy

15,000-Mile Hike Seen As Three-Year Job By Ambitious Veteran

Paris Or Bust His Goal On Trek Through Arctic At 70 Below

(International News Service)

DANVERS, Mass., Aug. 19.—New York to Paris, not by airplane but afoot.

Such is the intention of John Oliver Porter, world war veteran and globe trotter extraordinary of this city.

"Quite a task, yes, but I'll do it," he declared with much emphasis. "They laughed at Lindbergh and no doubt they'll do the same to me, but I'll see Paris."

Porter's declaration has set this quaint little New England town agog. It's the chief topic of the day. Many of the "boys" go as far back as Colonial days, when Danvers, once old Salem village, was the cradle of witchcraft where men of strange ideas were punished by death, it being taken for granted that they were possessed of some evil spirit.

Only Way Left.

Since travel to Paris has been accomplished by almost every means conceivable only one way remains and that is to hike to it, according to Porter.

Porter will begin his trek to Europe the latter part of this month. From New York he will move to Canada, thence to Alaska and the Behring sea. What next? There, according to Porter, is the greatest handicap of the hike. A 60-mile stretch of water is frozen solidly for a period of three months or more during the course of winter. Indians and Eskimoes living in the vicinity are known to frequently cross that great stretch during winter time. Cold, yes, very cold, they tell us, perhaps 70 degrees below zero or more. But, according to Porter, 60 miles is not far when a man is properly clothed and with a suitable guide the move can be made without any undue exertion.

Once across, Porter then faces a stretch of Asiatic country covering several thousands of miles. Dangers are many, among them being the cold.

According to Porter, approximately three years will be consumed in his task perhaps more with the possibility that some 15,000 miles will be covered before the finish.

Will Lecture Enroute.

Porter is a native of the town of Marblehead, the town that claims to be the birthplace of the American navy. Walking is his chief hobby. Even now Porter thinks no more of walking 30 or more miles a day thru the woods and different neighboring towns. During the World war Porter was a member of the 20th field artillery. He served two years in France and never faltered once during the long hikes that were prevalent during those days.

He is a magazine salesman by occupation and is known to have visited practically every college in the country during the past ten years. Porter will turn to lecturing at various points enroute.

The latter part of this month will see John Oliver Porter of Danvers starting his jaunt to Paris from New York.

"I want it understood—not by airplane, but afoot," remarked Porter. He seems ot be wondering as to whether the folks back home will be calling him the "walking fool".

"Paris is my goal," declared Porter. "just watch me!"

BOMB ROCKS PHILA. HOME

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—A bomb explosion rocked homes in South Philadelphia today shattering windows, terrorizing residents and damaging the cafe of James Tracey.

No one was injured. Several persons were thrown from their beds.

Police believe that friends of four men, whose arrest Tracey had caused recently as suspicious characters were to blame.

The bomb police say, was hurled into the cafe through a window which had been left open.

Many panic-stricken neighbors rushed into the street in scanty attire as their houses trembled.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

They used to say that a saloon was the most sociable place in the world. I can't testify to the truth of this statement, but it does seem to me that as sociable as the old time barroom might have been, it still was short of the locker room of a golf club.

Here is one place where wealth, position or previous condition of servitude matters not at all. Take the clothes off any prominent citizen and he stacks up about the same as anybody else and the locker room of a golf club is that kind of a leveler

An example of this was the locker room of the New Castle Field Club Wednesday night. There was a dozen different kinds of business and professions represented, but they all answered the same query. "How did you go today?" For instance, there was Rev. C. J. Williamson who as you know is a minister of the gospel, a handful of lawyers, Harry McKee and Walter Duff who are lime stone superintendents, Bill Nunn a real estate agent, Jim Foster an automobile agent, Ed Smith a hardware man, Jack Waddington an accessory merchant, Santos Ortega, an actor, and all the other shades of human endeavor. And all of them were interested in but one thing, golf.

Which leads into the statement that as a golfer, this lad Santos Ortega is the world's best actor. Anybody who takes 22 strokes on number six, is still some distance from being a Walter Hagen.

Tommy Dugan, one of the secret service men of this department, tells me that "dorg" mentioned in this column a day or so ago was an English sheep dog. Maybe so, he might have been most anything. He certainly looked like a sheep.

Some of you football fans may be interested to know that this fall will see an easier lead in to the Benjamin Franklin Stadium. Junior High Street has been opened from East Washington Street and leads smack dab into the main entrance of the stadium.

After two weeks of intensive preparation, Charles H. Andrews, his brother Frank, and Senator George T. Weingartner finally got away to their Canadian fishing grounds. And with them went a lot of happy families of night crawlers. By actual count they had about 1278 and the men who joined them from Pittsburgh had a lot more. The gang was bound for the Millvale Fishing Club, Bon Air, via Parry Sound, Ontario, Canada. Sounds like the address of an Arctic explorer.

This may sound like a boost for the boss, but it isn't intended that way at all. Up on Edison Avenue, Fred L. Rentz, who works occasionally for the News, has as pretty a front yard as you would care to see. A riot of colors in the flower garden, and a well kept lawn. But will somebody tell me what that chrystal globe is for?

And to drop around to somebody's back yard, Hugh B. Beck at 625 Arlington Avenue, has one that just approximates perfection. Mr. Beck combines artistry with parsnips and a love for the beautiful with string beans. A beautiful yard and a productive one.

The question of the day. "What are you running for?"

BOYS MOURNING THEIR LOST PET

Robinson Street Lads Hoping Daily For Return Of "Mitzi"

Two little boys on Robinson street are now in mourning. For their playmate and pet, Mitzi, is lost. Each day when they awaken, the first thing that they do is to run to the kitchen to see if Mitzi has returned, and each day they are disappointed.

No, Mitzi is either lost or stolen. It was Sunday afternoon when she disappeared, and although she has been advertised for, no one has been kind enough to tell where she is.

And that is not all. At home Mitzi has one lone puppy, and every night and morning the puppy also cries for her mother.

Mitzi is an American Pit Bull, about three years old. She has one black eye, and the opposite ear is also black. Her face is white, and she has four stockinged feet. Lady, her small puppy, is almost an exact copy of her mother. And Lady wants her mother.

Mitzi, before she was taken, was the property of Frank Kelly of 15 Robinson street. But since last Sunday afternoon, Frank does not know who Mitzi belongs to. But Frank and his two little boys want their dog, who is not only a dog, but a playmate.
